ALCAZAR HORROR REVEALED

U. S. TO KEEP HANDS OFF IN SINO-JAP CRISIS

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

CINCINNATI, Sept. 25. — The Presidential candidate of the Communist party, Mr. Browder, hastens to acquit Mr. Roosevelt of the charge that he is a Communist. At the same meeting Mr. Thomas, the Socialist candidate, points out that, at the direction of Mr. Browder, many members of the Communist party "are working in a labor party which is explicitly pledged to Roosevelt." Of course they are. It is natural and logical that they should be.

Ever since his inauguration Mr. Roosevelt has talked, made speeches and pursued policies that could be calculated only to arouse class consciousness and hatred. He has inveighed against "money changers," "economic royalists" and "princes of privilege," and has never ceased hectoring and harrying business and employers of labor.

The confusion and ill will which Mr. Roosevelt continually promotes are right up the alley of those whose purpose is to change our form of government. His recent deploring of "exaggeration and invective" does not bother them. They know he is their best bet.

Washington Is Concerned Over Peace Threat

Fears Crisis May Result In New Outbreak Of War In Europe

U. S. TO REMAIN OUT OF DISPUTE

Forecast Japan Preparing To Take Over Another Slice Of China

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The Sino-Japanese crisis is regarded here as the gravest threat to world peace since the threatened intervention of European powers in the Spanish civil war.

The shot that snuffed out the life of a Japanese marine at Shanghai, in the light of swiftly developing events in China, assumes the proportion of more than a minor incident to be amicably settled over a conference table.

It is feared the slaying of Asamitsu Taminatos may have touched off a chain of events which, unless halted soon, might conceivably lead ultimately to embroilment of not only Asia, but also European powers, in another world war, far broader in scope and far more horrible than the last.

Closely Linked

Remote as the quarrels of Japan and China appear to western Europe, they are closely linked through Russo-Japanese rivalry for control of the far eastern sphere by a series of pacts and animosities that have grown up in the 18 years since the World War.

Whatever the attitude of Europe may be, the United States, it was made clear by authorities, intends following its policy of "hands off" foreign quarrels, emphasied most strongly by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull in the recent Spanish crisis.

No immediate danger to American lives or property was seen here because of the new warlike gestures of Japan toward China.

No Concern of U. S.

Publicly, Washington is ignoring the situation.

Announce $3,000 Gift To New Library Fund

Announcement of the donation of $3,000 as an advance gift to the Library campaign fund was made by General Chairman Walter Duff at the Thursday noon meeting of advance workers.

It was made by the family of the late Edward King as a testimonial to his interest in library work. The donors were Mrs. Mary L. King, Mrs. Margaret K. Fowle and Miss Elizabeth T. Fowle, each of whom subscribed the sum of $1,000 towards the success of the present campaign.

The late Edward King, long a leading figure in the affairs of this city, had been one of the most ardent workers for the founding of a library in New Castle. His time and efforts contributed greatly to the success of the movement and the establishment of a library here. In making the present generous donation, his widow, daughter and granddaughter have provided a real memorial to his services and given a tremendous impetus to the workers in their present drive for funds.

The next and final meeting of the advance gift committee before the opening of the general campaign will be at the Castleton at 12:15, Monday noon.

Big Corn Roast At Williard Hall

City And County Officials, Clerks And Members Of Bar Have Good Time

Over two hundred county and city officials and clerks and members of the bar attended a corn roast last night at Willard Hall on the Frew Mill road. Originally it was intended to hold the corn roast at the dairy farm of County Commissioner Floyd Cotton, but as the weather was a little cool it was decided to go to the hall.

On the committee of arrangements were Andy Dodds, Jack M. Dunlap and John Edgar. The menu included about fifty dozen roasting ears, forty pounds of wieners and buns to match, doughnuts, cider, coffee and marshmallows.

The entertainment consisted of music and dancing. The music was furnished by the Croton band, led by Prof. W. A. Hoffmaster, and instrumental music by Clifford James, William Wallace, Henry Kersey and Dorothy Gormley Smith, the latter at the piano.

This was the first time the local band had ever attended a national convention and the Perry S. Gaston post would have been satisfied to have made a good showing. To walk off with the top honors surpassed all expectations.

Along the line of march the New Castle band, directed by Joe F. Replogle was given an ovation. Back of the band were some 75 members of the Gaston Post while at the head of the unit was a huge banner twenty feet long with the words, "New Castle, Pa." on it.

Reciprocal Foreign Trade Program Hit By Governor Landon

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 25.—Pledging repeal of the present reciprocal trade program, with a return of treaty-making powers to the senate and tariff-making powers to congress, Gov. Alfred M. Landon today carried his presidential campaign into Wisconsin after charging the Roosevelt foreign trade policies had "sold the American farmer down the river."

The Republican nominee left here this morning aboard his "Sunflower Special" for a series of "rear porch" talks in cities of central Wisconsin, while enroute to Milwaukee for a major speech tomorrow night on social security. Landon planned an attack on the administration's law, which taxes both employers and employes to provide unemployment insurance, while offering his own substitute for the existing act.

The governor will turn aside from his campaign role tonight to become a football fan, while attending a high school game at Oshkosh. He expressed a personal desire to view the high school game, as he had no political appointment for the evening.

Legion Answers Pershing Attack By Lloyd George

American Legion Delegates Start Trek Homeward From Cleveland, Ohio

CONVENTION IS BROUGHT TO END

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1936, By International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 25—Criticism of General John J. Pershing's leadership of American troops during the World War by the British war-time Premier David Lloyd George in his newly published memoirs, today had aroused intense indignation in the American Legion.

This was vividly obvious here as Legionnaires streamed out of this city after their eighteenth annual convention. The veterans came here indignant over the world-wide acceleration of what they term subversive activities anyway, reflected in their adoption of the most vigorous national defense, neutrality and anti-communistic program in Legion history.

Then, when in the midst of this patriotic fervor, the ex-soldiers learned that the British former premier had taken to task "Black Jack Pershing" the man American doughboys followed into battle, they were openly hopping mad.

"Why, that guy doesn't know what he's talking about," was heard from doughboys on all sides.

Loyalist Troops Penetrate Ruins Of Alcazar Fort

REBELS PUSHING ON TOWARD FORT

Discover Scores Of Rebels Drowned When Flood Was Released On Them

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

TOLEDO, Spain, Sept. 25.—Uncovering a shambles of death and putrefaction, a group of Loyalist soldiers penetrated to the depths of the shell-scarred Alcazar today while a rebel "honor column" rushed toward Toledo in a frantic effort to rescue the thousand gallant survivors still in the fortress.

Preceded by an armored car and blasting their way through the castle with hand grenades, the government troops succeeded in reaching the kitchen and dining hall of the ancient building.

The sight that met their eyes beggared description for horror and desolation.

Mute Testimony

Beneath the kitchen and dining room the Loyalist, overcoming desperate resistance, found a basement which bore mute testimony to the tragedies enacted inside the Alcazar's grim walls during the nine weeks' seige which remains to be lifted.

There were a number of charred bodies, burned beyond recognition, obviously those of rebel soldiers killed by cannon or machine-gun fire and consigned to a pyre for lack of burial space.

There was an abandoned well packed to the rim with putrefying bodies. They could not be counted.

FRANCE TAXES GOLD EXPORTS

Seeks To Curb Capital Flight

Seek To Protect Franc From Danger Of Forced Inflation

DISCOUNT RATE RAISED SHARPLY

By LINDESAY PARROTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Sept. 25.—Premier Leon Blum's leftwing government has decided to place a heavy tax on exportation of gold as a step toward curbing continued flight of capital from France, International News Service learned today on excellent authority.

Faced with continuous dwindling of the gold reserve, authorities decided upon this action as an alternative to an immediate, formal gold embargo, it was stated.

Simultaneously, it was stated Finance Minister Vincent-Auriol may possibly be dropped from office and replaced by Paul Reynaud, France's most prominent expert on "managed currency." He recently returned from the United States, where he made a survey of President Roosevelt's monetary measures.

To Protect Franc

The reports now current here follow several specific government measures aimed at protecting the franc from danger of forced inflation arising from the flight of gold.

One of these was taken yesterday when the government raised the discount rate sharply from three to five percent. The action was taken following an exodus of 1,500,000,000 francs in gold within two weeks.

The government was forced to reserve its cheap money policy when gold reserves dropped within two points of the 50,000,000,000 francs which is considered France's "war chest minimum."

Financial circles reported France is preparing to negotiate a "currency alignment" with the dollar and pound sterling to win for the French treasury the profits of devaluation without actually devaluating the franc.

a Legion chieftain came to International News Service exclusively from Ray Murphy of Iowa, retiring national commander of the Legion.

"This attack from David Lloyd George would be a serious blow to good relationship between the people of Great Britain and the United States, were it not for the fact, as I believe, that Mr. David Lloyd George no longer speaks for the people of Great Britain," observed Murphy.

The retiring commander said this only a few hours after the Legionnaires in their final session of the convention, had a rising vote shown enthusiastic support of Pershing in his command of the American expeditionary forces.

Words Not Minced

Harry W Colmery, of Topeka, who was elected to the national command for the coming year, would not comment upon the Lloyd George attack for publication, but privately revealed sentiment similar to those expressed by Murphy. The retiring commander did not mince words.

"I have just hastily glanced at newspaper reports of Mr. David Lloyd George's attack" he said, "but in that glance it appeared to me that his criticism was largely based on Pershing's determination to prevent the American forces from losing their identity.

Should Be Commended

"There is no doubt in my mind that General Pershing's successful resistance to the demands of the allies in this connection is one of the things which commends him most higher.

"The people of America, and especially the American soldiers, I am certain, are of the same opinion now as they were in 1917 and 1918. They did then, and do now, support General Pershing in his policies, and consider that he not only did what was right conducted himself gallantly and patriotically, but served this nation in an unique and extraordinarily brave fashion."

you very much for your telegram." McIntyre wired the Happy Warrior of 1928 who had personally signed a long telegram to Mr. Roosevelt.

Smith had wired that "In deference to the high office of president you hold, I do not desire to interfere with your having a nationwide audience," on the night of October 1.

Beyond making the McIntyre reply public, there was no comment here at Hyde Park. Political aides to the president pointed out privately, however, that Smith's offer was not one of pure generosity in that Al had merely arranged matters so he could listen in on Mr. Roosevelt's speech at Pittsburgh and then reply to it in a 45-minute session on the air that would follow immediately on the executive's closing words.

Direct Relief Load Decreases

Increased Industrial Activity Credited With Causing Drop In Relief Cases

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—Increased industrial activity and removal of workers from WPA rolls through "needs" questionnaires today was credited by State Works Progress Administrator Edward N. Jones for a reduction in direct relief cases and relief jobs in the state.

Jones reported a reduction of 1585 jobs on WPA projects for the week ended September 18. With the exceptions of Philadelphia, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties, he said, Pennsylvania's WPA has given a job to "every eligible male family head on relief."

Pointing out that as of September 18, 247,553 persons were at work on 4,649 projects, Jones said that payrolls have amounted to $153,237,876 in "less than 15 months."

RECIPROCAL FOREIGN TRADE PROGRAM HIT BY GOVERNOR LANDON

sailed the Roosevelt reciprocal trade treaties as "destroying the markets of our farmers." He said the treaties, which admit huge quantities of farm products to compete against American farm products did not constitute "reciprocity" but "charity paid for by American producers."

The governor's first farm speech at Des Moines Tuesday dealt with purely domestic issues. There he pledged an administration that would "preserve the family type of farm" and "restore permanent agricultural prosperity." In his second address, he dealt with agriculture's foreign trade.

Farmers Not Benefitted

The Roosevelt reciprocal trade treaties, he analyzed in these words:

"We have had only two years of this program. But within even that short time certain conclusions have been proved beyond all question. The reciprocal tarde agreements made by this administration have not benefitted our farmers; they have hurt our farmers. They have not regained his markets for him; they have taken more of his markets away, both at home and abroad.

"They have not caused him to get better prices for his products; they have prevented him from getting as good prices as he otherwise would.

"In a word, the reciprocal trade program of the present administration has delayed recovery for our farmers. It has sold the American farmer down the river."

Condemns Treaties

Landon declared the principle underlying present reciprocal treaties did not constitute "reciprocity." He condemned them as "injurious to American citizens" while declaring himself "opposed to a policy of isolation" and as believing "reasonable protection is essential to our own well being."

Landon pointed out, as one example, that 500,000 pounds of cheese were imported in the first six months of 1935 but that, under one reciprocal treaty, 4,000,000 pounds were imported in the first six months of 1936. He added that the price of cheese, under these imports, fell from 17 to 12½ cents a pound.

Imports Increase

"Eight of these agreements have been in force long enough for us to see the results," he added. "In these cases, the imports of farm products have increased 84 per cent over a corresponding previous period.

"Exports of farm products have increased only 26 per cent. In other words, under these eight agreements, our imports increased more than three times as fast as our exports."

Landon declared, "these disastrous results" were caused by the execution of treaties on "competing products." He declared his willingness to execute true reciprocating treaties under which the United States would deal with "customers," trading off surplus products for products which we need but cannot produce.

Condemns Favored Nations

The nominee also condemned the "unconditional favored nation principle" under which the United States grants the benefits of each specific treaty to all other "favored nations" without getting anything in return. He called this "charity paid for by American producers."

Finally, Landon condemned the entire principle of the present treaties. If they are commercial treaties, he said, the senate ought to ratify them by a two-thirds vote. If they are tariff revisions, he added, congress ought to enact them. In either event, he condemned the present system under which the president negotiates the treaties through a delegation of power from congress.

the landing of Japanese armed forces at Shanghai and in other Chinese cities in reprisal for a series of recent killings of Japanese citizens, is a matter for settlement by the two far eastern governments.

Nippon used another incident in September of 1931 to set off the invasion which resulted in its taking the first huge bite out of China and setting up the Japanese-controlled puppet state of Manchukuo.

Most observers regard Japan's swift investiture of Chinese cities as probably the signal that it is again on the eve of extending its power over more Chinese territory.

LOYALIST TROOPS PENETRATE RUINS OF ALCAZAR FORT

The stench was so overpowering the invaders backed away in horror the moment they entered the chamber.

Sets Of Chains

In another section were found sets of chains bearing signs of recent use. The Loyalists believed rebel commanders used them to fetter those of their number whom they distrusted and bound to the rock-hewn walls to safeguard themselves from treachery.

In this macabre setting the invaders found one single sign of life. On the massive black walnut table in the dining hall there were scattered in profusion dozens of mimeographed sheets. On examination they were found to be copies of a newspaper the Rebels turned out each day for distribution among the defenders and their families stationed in the labyrinth of subterranean vaults which honeycomb the ground beneath the fortress.

Rebels Move Artillery

Madrid, Sept. 25.—The right wing of Gen. Francisco Franco's anti-Madrid legions moved artillery into place and flung out two circling arms for the siege of Toledo today, but the thundering barrage of waters that Loyalists sent raging down the Alberche-Tagus valley enabled the Leftists to plod through the mud and debris of its wake and threaten the center of the Rebel line at Maqueda.

Led by armored cars, the two divisions of the Franco force marched through the night to take up positions on heights across from the hilltop city of Toledo, and some reports said this amazingly fast moving column had already surrounded Toledo and cut off communications with Madrid.

An assault on Toledo was forecast for early today, Major Antonio Castejon, commander of this division, driving his sleepless and worn Foreign Legionnaires to speed the rescue of the Alcazar's defenders, now regarded by the Rebels as an early certainty.

Immediately before Toledo, however, lie firm Loyalist entrenchments, according to Madrid headquarters, with 10,000 militiamen ready to "fight to the last man."

Many Are Drowned

I returned today from a trip to Santa Cruz de Retamar, whither the Rebels had almost penetrated along their central line of attack, before Loyalists lifted the Alberche Sluice gates and loosened billions of gallons of water against the Rebels.

Scores of insurrectos were drowned, others cut off, and eleven airplanes crushed like eggshells when the torrent roared down the dry bed of the Alberche.

Twice were the angry waters unleashed, and today trickling streams from the surrounding mountains and plains are again filling up the mighty reservoirs, ready to subject the Rightists, in gigantic inquistorial manner, to a mass "trial by water."

Without opposition, the Loyalists then moved to Quismonda, penetrating to within four miles of Maqueda, the strategic junction for roads to Madrid and Toledo.

Loyalist four-inch mortars opened a bombardment on the old castle at Maqueda, from which came Rebel machine-gun fire, and field headquarters said the Rebels might have to hold up their Toledo offensive to rush reinforcements back to Maqueda.

Severing of the line at Maqueda might mark the "turning point of the civil war," one Loyalist officer said.

Northwest of Madrid, according to an official announcement, the Loyalists recaptured Navalperal, destroying an entire cavalry column with heavy artillery fire.

Government airplanes bombarded Valladolid, but missed their objectives, the munitions factory and railway station, while Loyalist aircraft effectively raided Medino Del Campo, 30 miles south of Valladolid.

Rebel troops meanwhile marched onward towards Bilbao and Oviedo in the Biscay sector, and the Rebel radio at Seville announced that insurgents control all the reservoirs at Lozoya, Madrid's water supply.

Madrid authorities estimated that it will be three days before the Loyalists in Toledo will be able to drive the estimated 1,000 living defenders of the Alcazar out of their underground recesses. My own opinion, after trips to the Alcazar, is that only hunger will force them to yield, and daily Rebel airplanes fly over with food packages and notes of encouragement.

Rebels predicted that the "demoralized" defenders of Toledo would surrender without putting up much of a fight.

The date palm and the sycamore are the principal trees of Egypt. Many other trees, principally fruit trees, flourish there when sufficient moisture is supplied.

WPA Corruption Is Alleged By Senator Owlett

Find Many WPA Workers Must Either Buy Tickets Or Look For New Job

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—Wholesale corruption and intimidation of WPA workers in Schuylkill county was charged today by State Senator G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, national Republican committeeman.

In a statement released from the Republican state committee, Owlett declared:

"For the greater glory of the New Deal and it's 'liberal' leaders, the juggernaut machine of this anthracite county is not only forcing men and women to register Democratic to hold their jobs—but also to pay a share of their $15 a week WPA checks for the privilege.

"The method used in Schuylkill county is the ticket racket. Foremen peddle tickets for Democratic rallies and dinners among the workers. The workers are informed to buy a ticket—or else . . .'

"The 'or else' threat has proven very effective in Schuylkill county. I am informed that a few sharp examples were made on projects to convince men that purchasing tickets is the cheapest kind of job insurance."

WILL PLACE 120 MORE ON PENSION ROLLS IN COUNTY

granted. It will depend upon the circumstances surrounding each case. To be eligible for a pension the applicant must be 70 years of age, and be without sufficient funds for maintenance.

The enlarged pension list comes as a result of the recent Federal allocation of $12,000,000 to the state for such pensions. The state puts in a like amount. Many who have had their applications filed for some time have become impatient, but the board could do nothing more than has been done, until the money is provided. Now that the treasury has been replenished it is expected that more will be placed on the pension rolls during the months ahead.

EYES — No. 6 in an educational series.

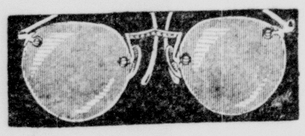

Nature Makes a Third Eye

As you can imagine, the yards of tail and legs and neck that nature gave her prehistoric creatures were somewhat unhandy. For one of them just to turn around to see who was stepping on his tail, for instance, was alone a time-consuming matter. So nature gave some of these animals a third eye in the back of their heads. In New Zealand there lives today a creature known as the Sphenodon which still has this third eye.

Nature knew how necessary good sight was to the human race. She did not give us an extra eye—but she gave us the finest eye she could make. Like any fine mechanism subjected to constant and severe use, defects develop in it. Correction of those defects by a regular eyesight examination is necessary to keep the vision clear and unimpaired.

NATIONAL TRAITS ENDURE

LORD MACAULAY has been dead almost a century but if he were living today and occupying a position of vantage in the environs of Madrid, observing the drama about him, he could not write of the Spanish character with greater fidelity to truth than he did in 1833.

"There is no country in Europe," he said, "which is so easy to overrun as Spain; there is no country in Europe which is so difficult to conquer. Nothing can be more contemptible than the regular military resistance which Spain offers to an invader; nothing more formidable than the energy which she puts forth when her regular military resistance has been beaten down. Her armies have long borne too much resemblance to mobs; but her mobs have had in an unusual degree the spirit of armies. The soldier, as compared with other soldiers, is deficient in military qualities; but the peasant has as much of these qualities as the soldier. In no country have such strong fortresses been taken by surprise; in no country have unfortified towns made so furious and obstinate resistance to great armies. War in Spain has since the days of the Romans had a character of its own. It burns fiercely under the embers; and long after it has, to all seeming, been extinguished, bursts forth more violently than ever."

Spain, as the latest bit of history in the making proves, is today what it was a century ago, and nearly three centuries ago, when the long and costly War of the Spanish Succession was fought, and centuries before that.

WERE THEY "PLANNED THAT WAY"?

Strange things sometimes happen in Presidential campaigns, queer coincidences and the like. This one has been especially remarkable for the large number of coincidences connected with the White House, words, acts and plans of Candidate Roosevelt that surprisingly synchronize with or narrowly anticipate related activities of Governor Landon and his anti-New Deal supporters and sympathizers.

The latest of these odd occurrences is the assignment of the same radio hour on the night of October 1 for Mr. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith. It is stated that after Mr. Smith's friends had arranged for his broadcasting the New Deal managers sought and obtained the same hour for Mr. Roosevelt. The President is to talk for 30 minutes over one network and Mr. Smith for an hour over another, but during the first half hour they will both be on the air.

Perhaps less would be thought of this peculiar concatenation if it were not for the fact that the long arm of coincidence has been working overtime ever since Mr. Roosevelt made his famous "non-political and historical" oratorical pilgrimage through Southern States and up to Indiana just at the time the Republicans were holding their national convention at Cleveland. Here, again, there was some clashing of the New Deal candidate's radio speeches with the broadcast proceedings of the convention.

Students of the law of mathematical chances were also interested, the other day, when Mr. Roosevelt's indorsement of crop insurance got under the wire just before Governor Landon's Des Moines speech in which he discussed the same and kindred subjects. They had previously been startled by the uncanny announcement of Mr. Roosevelt's belated plans for civil service reform on the eve of Mr. Landon's address of acceptance in which he walloped the unconscionable spoils system of the New Deal.

Cynics may view Mr. Roosevelt's roseate announcement of governmental finances—incidentally not borne out by the facts and figures—as suspiciously coincidental with Governor Landon's Buffalo blast at New Deal extravagances, with a special shot for the "most cockeyed piece of tax legislation" that hit the mark.

The list of such "coincidences" include many others. But with regard to all these remarkable incidents there is no record of Mr. Roosevelt having said: "Oh, yes, we planned it that way." — Philadelphia Inquirer.

DANGERS OF HANDSHAKING

It is rather late in the political campaign for the Connecticut Medical Association to come out with a warning against the unseen dangers of handshaking. Kissing babies is no longer a candidatorial custom and its decline is doubtless as welcome to the infants as to the politicians. But the candidate or political manager who should abstain from wholesale handshaking—well, such a departure from tradition is unthinkable.

Shaking of hands is denounced by the medicos because it may spread dangerous germs. Nothing is said of the torture undergone by celebrities who are forced to perform this ancient rite with a long line of strangers who always include at least a couple of strong-arm men with a grip like a vise.

There was a time when our Presidents were compelled to undergo this ordeal not only at New Year receptions, but on the occasion of visits from delegations of citizens eager to be able to tell the folk back home that they were hand-in-hand with the Chief Executive.

There has been less handshaking at the White House for many years. And yet there is still too much of it for the comfort of our Presidents. As for the candidates for the thousands of offices to be filled this year they simply have to shake hands. But happily, despite Jim Farley's prediction of the "dirtiest campaign on record," there has not been much shaking of fists.

Small nations like Ethiopia, which joined the League of Nations for "protection," now know how those New York racketeers work.

Every few months I say "I'm going to quit playing bridge. It's a waste of time." . . . Every few months a woman I know laughs as though she didn't believe me.

Note for psychoanalysts: I can't fight a lick, but I like to read prize-fight stories.

I'm no fisherman and don't particularly like fish; I've a friend who is a good fisherman, but would not think of eating one, and I've another friend who's a good fisherman and would rather eat fish than steak.

I know a businessman who complains privately that he has had merely two kinds of stenographers, those who hate him and those who get "crushes" on him. . . . Unfortunately, those who hate him turn out the best work.

Nobody ever tells me anything.

I've a letter "from a proof-reader who knows his stuff," who suggests rather pointedly that I'm weak on punctuation because I put question marks and semicolons outside of quotation marks. . . . By why shouldn't I write: "Where do you get that 'stuff'? The question mark applies to the entire sentence, not merely to the word 'stuff'."

But arguing with an anonymous letter writer puts one at a disadvantage. You don't know who he is, but he knows who you are.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THEY STILL THUMB

Fourteen States and the District of Columbia now have laws prohibiting hitchhiking. The bad hitchhikers have created a hazard that shuts out the inoffensive ones as well. Too many have been robbed and too many killed by the pedestrians to whom kindness opened their cars.

Thus, in self-protection, men have had to stifle natural inclination to give a lift to the weary wayfarer. The majority of hitchhikers are harmless, but the minority are so dangerous that the chance is too great. It may be heartless but it is safety first to ignore the thumb and so the fourteen States and the District of Columbia have now ordered it ignored by the law.

The World At A Glance

Re-election Of Washington.
Fewer Voters Could Qualify.
Had Troubles In Europe Too.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

THE PRESIDENTIAL electors again chose George Washington unanimously for a second term in 1792.

John Adams was given the vice presidency for a second time.

The house of representatives, however, in the election turnover, became of an opposite hue (if that may be said prior to the actual formation of opposing parties). The new representatives were of the liberal tendencies of Thomas Jefferson, rather than of the extrmely conservative tendencies of Alexander Hamilton.

The senate, being of slower turnover, remained Federalist.

It must be recalled that suffrage in the first years of the nation was greatly restricted. In 1790, for example, out of four million inhabitants, merely 125,000 men were qualified to vote.

Thus, the tendency toward liberalism seemed all the more remarkable.

NOT SATISFIED

George Washington was too great a figure to have been opposed in the election of 1792.

But the policies of his government were bitterly attacked—because of the Hamiltonian "reconstruction" of the constitution, by his administering of it, which seemed to concentrate power in the hands of a few. The turnover in the house of representatives indicated the temper of the people.

The assumption of the debts of the states through the government buying the almost worthless securities at par—thus enriching speculators; the founding of a central government bank, which the anti-Federalists charged put the government into the hands of a money power; and the levying of a protective tariff, brought a sever reaction among the people.

Scandal had broken, too, for 29 members of the first congress had held many of the securities which they voted should be bought up at par.

Jefferson had become alarmed at this early corruption in the government. He denounced it with all the vigor he possessed. Similarly, he asserted that the United States bank had been created as a permanent engine of the moneyed interests for influencing the course of government (see Beard's "The Rise of American Civilization" for details). Even prior to the second election of Washington, the people at large had begun to turn to Jefferson.

It is significant that Jefferson was not a member of Washington's second cabinet.

OVERSEAS' TROUBLE

During Washington's first term the French revolution had begun on a moderate scale. All Americans seemed happy that a sister republic had appeared to enter its name on the scroll of liberty.

John Marshall, afterward to be chief justice of the United States supreme court, wrote: "In no part of the globe was this revolution hailed with more joy than in America."

But this bourgeois revolution was not to last long. The old order, which had fled from France to Germany, began plotting there. Then, Paris workmen, still denied the ballot under a moderate regime, took matters into their own hands—and bitter, horrible years followed.

Europe was afire when Washington came up for re-election.

U. S. INVOLVED

The United States was involved—indirectly.

England was fighting France on the high seas. And English warships seized American merchantmen carrying French goods, in fact violated the principle of "freedom of the seas" again and again.

The Federalists seemed pro-British—in fact, many asserted openly that they were. They, in turn, charged that Jefferson and his followers, because they believed in the French revolt (as originally conceived) were Jacobins—the equivalent of Communists of today.

New England clergymen even called for war on Frence—not England—so that the French principles could be prevented from coming over into the United States.

Democratic debating societies organized by the anti-Federalists were denounced as inimical to the nation. The Federalists were frightened and urged that severe measures be taken.

In this high tide of passions, when even a dictatorship was talked of for America (by Alexander Hamilton), and which was to lead highly unpopular anti-sedition laws and other measures of repression, Thomas Jefferson retired to his estate at Monticello, Va., for four years. He had infinite faith that democracy would survive and carry on.

It did. The Federalists were to disintegrate; the Jefferson Democrats were to come into being.

DEAR Miss Markel—About two months ago I met a young man from a distant city. Before he left for his home he asked if he might correspond with me. My answer was in the affirmative and he has written two very friendly letters. After giving me the impression that he intended to write often, he did not answer my last letter which I sent about a month ago. Would it be proper for me to write a friendly note asking him to tell me if he does not wish to correspond with me any further? M. G.

Answer—Do not write to him until he has acknowledged your last letter. He should write to you now and if he does not you may well know that he has lost interest and does not care to continue corresponding.

Do not lay yourself open to the embarrassment of having a second letter ignored.

On the contrary, he may be out of town or temporarily indisposed and will write to you later. Have patience and by all means maintain a dignified silence until you have heard from him.

How Many May Vote?

From New York Sun

Those individuals and organizations that join in a non-partisan effort to get out the vote may have an easier task this year than in former years, if the vote in Maine on September 14 is any criterion. More than 310,000 Maine citizens cast their votes for either Senator Wallace H. White, Jr., Republican candidate for re-election, or for Governor Louis J. Brann, his Democratic opponent. Maine's population is in the neighborhood of 805,000; the vote for senator amounted to approximately 38 per cent of the population.

No such ratio could be expected for the nation in November. Maine, though traditionally and habitually Republican, is a closer state than most of those below the Mason-Dixon line. There is usually no great incentive to get out the vote in South Carolina or Mississippi, for a whopping Democratic majority in either state would astonish nobody. On the basis of the Maine vote an inflexible statistician might estimate the November vote at 48,640,000, but if he were at all careful he would make at least two corrections, one to make allowance for the relatively small vote in some Southern states, the other to make allowance for the uncharacteristic age distribution of the Maine population. In the nation as a whole, 38.8 per cent of the population is 19 or under; the percentage is 37.3 for Maine. This difference, slight as it seems, is sufficient to give Maine a considerably larger voting population in proportion to population than could be found in most of the states. The deduction on this score would run close to 2,000,000 votes. The deduction to be made in the case of the Southern states is one that need not be calculated here, for in most election years the deduction is made by the voters when they fail to go to the polls.

The adjusted estimate of the 1936 vote, still highly hypothetical, would stand at 46,640,000. The 1928 vote was 36,879,000 and the 1932 vote 39,816,000. The increase in four years was nearly 3,000,000 votes, mainly those of new voters who had come to legal maturity in the four-year period. The increase in the 1936 vote over that cast in 1932 certainly should amount to at least 3,000,000. This would make the 1936 vote, with merely the increase which could be reasonably expected, 42,816,000. Against this could be balanced the possible vote of 46,640,000. It would then appear that those interested in getting out the vote would have to concentrate their campaign on 3,800,000 citizens at the most.

The methods of estimate may make this group larger than it actually is. But even if voters who need persuasion to go to the polls number only 1,500,000 or so, the job of appealing to their civic conscience is well worth doing. Fewer voters than 1,500,000 have decided national elections in times past.

The census of 1930 put the potential voting population of the United States at 67,000,000. This figure includes invalids, insane persons and other groups which are not a part of the actual or probable voting population.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Manhattan Potpourri: Funny how small and utterly trivial impressions tattoo the loiterer—for instance, the mica glitter, like polished gold, in the sidewalk in both directions from the main entrance of the Waldorf-Astoria, as if set for the slippers of the uppity folk who pass in and out there—and the shiver that overtakes the pedestrians walking in Park Avenue in the Fifties—the shake of New York Central trains passing underneath. The doze of taxi drivers in lonely side streets after 2 a. m.—and the checker games between drivers in impossible cul-de-sacs where no customers pass—the perfectly arranged sheen of Robert Taylor's hair, and the wonder of how he gets each individual hair to wave in exact, mathematical precision—the slightly sinister aura over the gypsy hangouts in deserted stores—and, speaking of gypsies, Konrad Bercovici twirling his mustachios as he strolls in West 10th Street—the peace upon Irvin Cobb reading a novel in the lobby of one of the ritzier hotels.

Today I heard about one of the great publicity stunts. Several impresarios have startled the town with space-hogging schemes, but this is one which, although it is legendary, did not come to my ear until now. The principal is one of the better known touters of a famous inn, and he got his start upon the impetus gained in this initial attempt to crash the New York dailies.

He wanted the account of an obscure hotel and went to the owner.

"I can make your hotel famous," he boasted.

"All right, shoot. I'll pay accordingly."

The hopeful was down to his last half dollar. Out of perversity, he bought a copy of Field and Stream, which seemed to him at the time the most preposterous way to spend his pennies. But he flipped the pages and came upon the ad of a wild duck farm. A fine pair of wild ducks could be bought for the trifle of $13. He read the ad twice and an idea collided with him. He ordered a pair—and charged them to the hotel.

When they arrived, he took them to the roof, got the house physician to paint the underside of the drake's wing with iodine and called in the reporters.

"The drake was wounded and his faithful spouse would not be comforted. She brooded and swooped about the roof whereon her lord had fallen. Finally, the hotel management captured them both and will keep them until they are able to travel again."

The story made every big paper. Two wild ducks alighting on the roof of a Manhattan hotel! The thing was unprecedented. Out-of-town editorial writers expatiated upon the constancy of ducks—how they could teach humans a thing or two. Sure enough, the hotel became famous overnight.

And the gentleman who engineered the feat has had increasingly good berths ever since. So goes success in Manhattan!

Motion pictures featuring the dancing of Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Eleanor Powell and Shirley Temple have been the greatest boon of the past decade to the dancing teachers of the country, it was unanimously agreed at a recent convention of the Dancing Teachers Business Association here.

"The change has been so pronounced," said Thomas E. Parsons, of New York City, president of the Association, "that most of our discussions at the convention at the Park Central were devoted to 'swapping ideas' as to the best methods of property commercializing the situation. Shirley Temple is undoubtedly responsible for more of the increased business in the dancing studios of America than any other contributing factor. Parents everywhere are now more interested than ever to start their children on what might also prove to be a great career."

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—Judge Albert S. C. Millar decided Thursday in quarter sessions court that three months in prison should "soften up" Brun Boris, 19, self-confessed "tough guy" arraigned for drunken driving.

Sentence was imposed after the youth bragged he had been arrested before for permitting an allegedly drunken companion to drive his car. Replying to the court's question as to what happened on that occasion, Boris explained:

"The judge gave me hell and let me go."

"Maybe three months in prison will change your attitude," replied Judge Millar, adding "That's your sentence."

RESTRICTIONS ASKED

(International News Service)

TOKYO—A petition to the Japanese Department of Commerce for the restriction of British woolen goods entering Japan has been made by the President of the Japan Federation of Woolen Weaver's Guilds. Signs of a big increase in British woolen imports have made the federation uneasy.

It seems wrong to spell Liberal with a capital. As a rule, it's the want of capital that makes him that way.

Japan's Terms Given To China

Marines Are Withdrawn From Part Of Shanghai By Japan

SOVIET RUSSIA NOW IN PICTURE

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Sept. 25— Japan's marines and army patrols were withdrawn today from the Hongkew and Chapei districts of Shanghai, where martial law had prevailed for two days, but over China's head there hung fresh Japanese demands for a comprehensive settlement of Sino-Japanese issues that would inevitably extend Nippon's sway over North China.

Japan's terms, submitted to Nanking by Ambassador Shigeru Kwagoe are:

1—Formation of a joint Sino-Japanese "front" against communism in North China.

2—Clarification of the status of the semi-autonomous political council of Chahar and Hopei provinces.

3—Employment of Japanse advisors to assist in the revision of anti-Japanese education.

4—Sino-Japanese economic cooperation.

5—Revision of Chinese tariffs.

Soviet Russia again appeared in the picture through the anti-communism clause, which is far-reaching, as "Cooperation" with China would permit stationing of more Japanese troops on Chinese soil, and is linked to a proposal for creation of a five-province "buffer zone" in North China for the protection, and under the domination, of Japanese interests.

Great relief was felt in Shanghai nevertheless with the withdrawal of the Japanese troops to their barracks, with the regular Chinese and international police, augmented in number, reassuming control.

The Japanese marines remained on guard only in the section of the international city where a Japanese marine was slain, leading to the present tension.

In appreciation for the services that he has given in the past year and his return to the Mahoning M. E church, Rev. C. H. Hagadorn was honored at a reception, Thursday evening, at the church.

A reception committee greeted the guests upon arriving, after which they found places at long tables arranged in the community room. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations. Fall flowers centering each table added greatly to the festivity of the occasion.

During the course of the evening musical selections were furnished by Dr. C. W. Davis and his string orchestra. One of the features of the program of the evening came when Mrs. W. H. Mauermann and Mrs. Wendall McClurg offered a vocal duet.

The events of the evening culminated in the serving of a tempting lunch.

Gold Discovery Restores Life To Mining Town

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25.—An old-time mining town that faded out more than fifty years ago when the gold lode was lost is expected to leap back into prominence with a bang.

The town is Sparta, located in northeastern Oregon, where mining has always been the main industry.

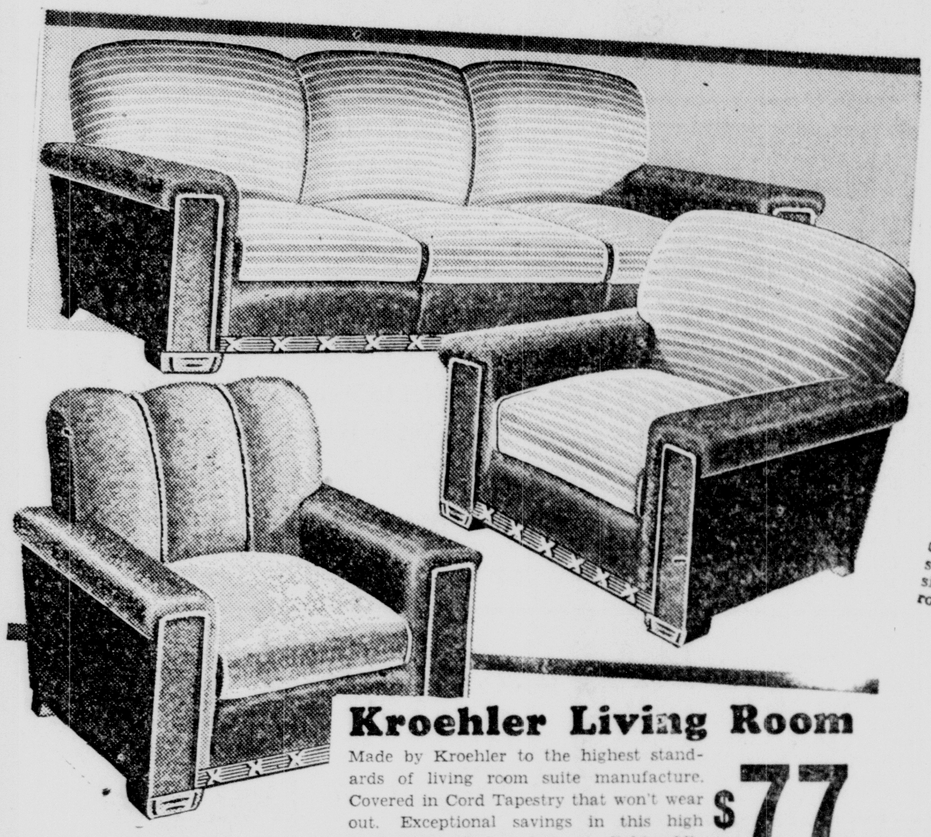

Fifty years ago Sparta's future seemed assured, and miles of pipe lines were laid to bring water from nearby streams for mining purposes. But the main gold vein faded out and so did the town.

The vein was re-discovered recently—richer than ever—in the center of town. A mining company has been organized to exploit the mine, but it is a closed corporation with a capital stock of $50,000. Present indications are that Sparta will more than regain her lost population.

AL SMITH OFFERS TO CHANGE RADIO SPEECH TIME

Will Step Aside For President

Awaits Reply From Roosevelt On Offer—President Plans Campaign Trips

ROOSEVELT WILL SPEAK IN KANSAS

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 25.—The country waited with extreme interest today to see President Roosevelt's reaction to the offer of Al Smith to step aside on the evening of October 1 so the two of them—once close friends and now bitter political enemies—would not be speaking over the radio at the same time.

Smith's telegram had been received at the summer White House. Presidential Secretary Marvin H McIntyre conceded this. What answer would go forward, however, was something else again.

The president was holding a press conference today. It was probable he personally would indicate the nature of his reply.

To Speak In Pittsburgh

Mr. Roosevelt is speaking in Pittsburgh on October 1, between 9 and 9:30 p. m. Smith has time on the air that same evening from 9 to 10—which would give him half an hour to answer any statement the president might make.

The Smith telegram was only one development in a fast-moving series of campaign developments here at Hyde Park.

In conference with Democratic Chairman Jim Farley, Vice President Garner, three cabinet officers and more than a score of administration senators, congressmen and committee officials, the president mapped out a series of campaign tours that will take him into the doubtful central, eastern and New England states.

Going To Kansas

Carrying the battle to Gov. Alfred M. Landon, his Republican opponent, Mr. Roosevelt will visit Wichita, Kansas, and bid for the vote of that state.

The president decided against a swing that will take him clear to the west coast on the ground it would be advisable for him to be not more than two or three days in travel away from Washington while the international situation remained so complicated.

The furthest west the executive will get will be Denver, it was understood. Omaha was another city marked for a campaign speech.

For the most part, however, the Democratic high command is going to concentrate on New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Oiho, Michigan and Massachusetts. On the assumption the south and most of the west is safe for the Democratic ticket, the winning of two or three of these states is figured to be sufficient by the New Deal strategists to carry the election.

Itinerary Not Made Public

The president's campaign itinerary was not made public but it was known he intends between now and election day to appear in Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Boston, Worcester, Springfield, Buffalo, Rochester and Albany.

A final speech will be made in Madison Square Garden the last week of the campaign.

More immediately, the president has a definite tour of speach making that will begin next Tuesday in Syracuse where the New York state Democratic convention is meeting.

On October 1, Mr. Roosevelt will attend the Mountain State Forest Festival at Elkins, W. Va., and make rear platform appearances at Grafton, Fairmont, Morgantown all in the same state, and Connellsville Penna.

That same evening, a major campaign speech will be delivered in Pittsburgh—this being the one which conflicts with Al Smith's projected attack on the New Deal.

The next day, Jersey City will be visited for dedication of the new medical center, following which the president will motor over to New York and take in a world series game. From there, he returns to Hyde Park, but his stay will be brief. The campaigning he has mapped out for himself will start almost immediately.

Pardon Board Ends Session

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—The State Board of Pardons Thursday ended its two-day September session without hearing the commutation application of John C. Blymire, central figure in the "hex" murder of a York county farmer.

It was announced to the board that Blymire's attorney, Patrick J. Friel, Philadelphia, was unable to be present because of illness.

The board withheld decision whether it will continue the case or will act on the testimony and records already in its possession.

Stresses Importance To Schools Of Good Library In This City

"The necessity of a good general library in any city which pretends to offer its citizens anything like proper educational facilities is so apparent that I think it needs no argument. A library fulfills a great variety of needs and has something to offer every citizen, but I naturally think first of its value to the schools.

"There is not a day in the school year in which many of our pupils do not have occasion to visit the library either for reference purposes or to obtain books with which to supplement their school reading courses, and the facilities of the present building are woefully inadequate. The space available for reference and reading is necessarily so located and so over-crowded that confusion cannot be prevented and proper study is practically impossible. Also, the reference library could be greatly improved if more book storage were available.

"I rejoice in the prospect of a really suitable library building and its importance to our schools cannot be over-emphasized. While we have our school libraries they by no means take the place of a larger and more complete public library."

Supt. of Schools.

SIGHT OF BEAUTY RESTORES SPEECH

(International News Service)

MISKOLO, Hungary, Sept. 25.—Peter Urs, a deaf and dumb plumber of 20 who lost speech and hearing in early childhood, went to repair the bathroom of a rich citizen. While he was working, the daughter of the house entered the room. The sight of the beautiful and richly dressed girl had an astounding effect on Urs.

"How beautiful!" he exclaimed suddenly and from that moment his speech was restored. His first coherent sentence was a marriage proposal to the girl. She has not yet given a definite reply.

Is The Lobo Wolf Anything Like The "Big, Bad, Wolf?"

Kane Folks Say It Is, And That Is Knows Its Stuff Much Better

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Sept. 25.—Your earmuffs will be of no use this winter according to the infallible Lobo wolf and Dr. E. H. McCleery, of Kane.

So if you like to think the Lobo wolf knows what it is about, toss your muffs away.

Dr. McCleery claims to be the owner of the only Lobo wolves in the world. The way the doctor says he can accurately forecast the seasons is by watching the fur growth on his pets, who number 33.

If the fur is heavy, take out your snowshoes, clean out your furnace, and prepare for the worst, says the doctor. If the fur is light, you can confidently make ready to take an outing with your family Christmas day.

Usually, by this time, Dr. McCleery declares, his wolves have decided whether a hard winter or a mild one is in prospect and, if a sub-zero season is at hand, have started to sprout a few extra hairs.

So far, however, the physician points out, the only thing unusually heavy about his wolves is their hides, but he can account for that. He has been feeding the wolves cod liver oil, he claims, and the vitamins had somewhat of a strange effect.

TITLES FOR HARVESTERS

(International News Service)

MOSCOW—The latest idea devised by the authorities in the U. S. S. R. to stimulate production is the creation of a title for harvesters. "Master of Combine Harvesting" will be bestower on "the the best harvesting operators."

For insect bites wash the skin with a solution of soda and water, a teaspoon of soda to a cup of water.

LESS POPULATION IN CITY OF LONDON

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Population of the City of London, the square mile of territory within the confines of greater London, continues to decline.

Census shows the resident population of the City to be 9,360. In 1931 it was 10,080; in 1861 it numbered 112,063.

By day the population is increased by more than a million due to the business influx. By resident population the census means only people who actually live in the city after business hours.

Charge Rebels Receiving Aid

Spanish Foreign Minister Makes Accusation Before League

SAYS REBELS ARE GETTING EQUIPMENT

(International News Service)

GENEVA, Sept. 25.—A direct charge that Spanish rebels are receiving "material and moral aid from foreign governments with a regime similar to that the insurgents hope to establish" was voiced before the League of Nations assembly today by Julio Alvarez Del Vayo, Spanish foreign minister

Del Vayo said his government in Madrid is receiving proof daily that the rebel forces possess equipment which the Spanish army did not have before the civil war began

The ambassador expressed regret over the international non-intervention policy, which he characterized as tantamount to a blockade against the Madrid government

Attacking militaristic nations and vigorously defending the principle of democracy, Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, today told the League of Nations assembly that his country will continue its rearmament program until nations reach a disarmament accord "which must be not only military, but moral."

Eden spoke, as chairman, at the opening of the assembly's regular session, one beset with many problems concerning Italy, Spain, and the collapse of European security agreements.

Many listeners interpreted the Briton's speech as a reply to the recent statements of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler at Nuremberg.

"Britain," he stressed, "will not abandon democracy, and will not permit her liberties and traditions to be infringed upon. Britain firmly believes in the durability of democratic forms."

CONVICT MAN ARRESTED ON LANDON TRIP

MEADVILLE, Sept. 25.—Thomas Delmonti, Pittsburgh, alleged pickpocket, was convicted by a Crawford county jury yesterday on a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods. He was arrested in the crowd that visited Conneautville, when Governor Alfred M. Landon was there. Delmonti was captured by State Trooper Ralph Mears of the New Castle sub-station, who was on duty here. Shots fired by a deputy sheriff at Delmonti when he attempted to flee, caused reports that Landon was imperilled. However, such was not true. Delmonti will be sentenced Monday.

Landon Flower Grows In Democrat Garden

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Sept. 25.—"Jim" Gardner is a rabid Democrat. Last spring he planted a flower garden at the rear of his home here. The seed dealer must have been a Republican, for Jim has the largest crop and tallest specimens of Landon sunflowers in the entire section. Jim says the sunflowers are no prophecy, just "donkey fodder" to him.

Church Is Left Legacy Of $50,000

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Sept. 25.—A bequest of $50,000 to the Pleasant Valley Presbyterian church in Cherry township was made known in the will of Edwin Tinker, 75, of near West Sunbury, whose death occurred last Sunday. The old church, which was unused for several years, was remodeled and redecorated this summer and services have been held in it regularly for the past few months. As the last surviving member of the large family of Jarvis Tinker, Edwin Tinker left the bulk of his sizeable estate to the church of his childhood.

Funny people! They demand sanitary cups; then they place their hands on the germ-laden table and lick their fingers.

Moderator Of Denomination To Speak Here

Shenango Presbytery Men To Hear General Assembly Head October 2

ANNUAL DINNER AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

REV. HENRY B. MASTER

In the First Presbyterian church of New Castle the moderator of the national Presbyterian General Assembly will address a Men's Fellowship dinner and evening meeting Friday, October 2, at 6:30 o'clock. The men at the dinner will be representatives of the Presbyterian churches of the Presbytery of Shenango.

The moderator, the Rev. Dr. Henry B. Master, of Philadelphia, was elected as head of the Presbyterian General Assembly for 1936-37 at its meeting in Syracuse, New York, late in May, 1936. Dr. Master is also the general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Pensions, a position he has held since 1919. The board has assets of more than $40,000,000. As moderator Dr. Master presides over a Presbyterian fellowship of 1,960,000 communicant members.

The Presbytery of Shenango numbers more than 10,000 communicant Presbyterian members. These are in 29 local churches, including seven churches in and near New Castle and four in and near Ellwood City, besides churches at Bessemer, Mahoningtown, New Wilmington, Sharon, Sharpsville and other centers.

The Rev. Dr. John J. McIlvaine is the pastor of the host church.

Better Housing Quarters Opened

Unit Of FHA Open On Public Square For Refinancing Homes

Repairs to homes, loans to build or purchase homes and loans for additions to structures are now possible through the establishment of a Better Housing Headquarters of the Federal Housing Administration which has been opened in the Hoyt building on the public square.

This project, sponsored by the State Department of Labor and Industry and operating in conjunction with the Federal Housing Administration, will aid persons seeking information regarding loans to build a new home, buy an existing structure, refinance a present mortgage or to undertake repairs and improvements to their property. These loans are repaid in convenient monthly installments over a period of years to fit individual requirements. It should be understood the money is loaned by local financial institutions that have been designated as approved mortgagees by the Federal Housing Administration.

The objectives of the program are three-fold: (1) To better acquaint the public with the advantages and safeguards provided by Federal Administration Insured Mortgages and the Modernization Credit Plan for repair loans; (2) to assist local financial institutions by conducting preliminary arrangements with applicants and aiding the latter in filling out necessary forms; (3) to stimulate the building industry by encouraging new construction and repairs to existing properties through these methods of sound financing.

Better Housing Headquarters will be open to the public every day except Sunday from 9:00 A.M. until 4:00 P.M. A courteous and competent staff of local people, who have been instructed regarding the Federal Housing Administation plan and its requirements, will interview applicants confidentially.

MISS MITCHELL ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

Miss Maud Mitchell, of Elm street, who was terribly injured in the collision which resulted in the death of her nephew, Rev. Clarence Bratschie and his wife, during the summer, has recovered sufficiently to leave the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Miss Mitchell was brought to the hospital here from Norwalk, O., near where the accident occurred, as soon as it was possible for her to be moved, and has been undergoing treatment in the local hospital since that time.

Landon Holds Lead In Poll

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—With fresh returns from eight states—making 21 in all which have partially reported to date—the Literary Digest presidential poll today showed Governor Landon leading President Roosevelt by slightly more than three to two.

In this fourth report of the poll, Landon is shown receiving 293,973 votes; Roosevelt 185,495 and Lemke 19,632, out of a total of 503,509 votes reported.

In the eight new states reporting, Landon gets a slight lead in five—California, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, and North Dakota. Three states—Alabama, Florida and Georgia—accord Roosevelt overwhelming majorities in their initial returns.

The tightest race in these eight states is in California. The vote there was 17,006 for Landon, to 16,018 for Roosevelt, and 1,053 for Lemke.

In his home state of Kansas, Landon enjoyed a slightly better than 3 to 4 lead. Landon led by a scant margin in North Dakota, home state of Lemke. Lemke received seven per cent of the vote there.

In Pennsylvania the vote was: Landon, 48,802; Roosevelt, 20,630; Lemke, 1,876; Ohio, Landon, 34,311; Roosevelt 20,777; Lemke, 3,443; in New Jersey, Landon 18,706; Roosevelt, 19,709; Lemke, 1,751.

REMINDER

The successful man was lecturing to an admiring audience.

"I must say," he concluded, "that I owe everything I have to my wife."

"Hey," shouted a tradesman at the back of the hall, "you're not forgetting my bill, are yer?"

HARD TO BELIEVE

"You know, when I was timbering in the Northwest it snowed so hard that we had to be let down with ropes to reach the tops of the trees. And the fog was so thick that the fish lost themselves in the woods, but we soon remedied that by digging ditches in the fog and draining it back to the river."

"Well, you know when I was down digging the Panama canal it was so hot there one day when my buddy went in swimming and dove off a twenty-foot rock into the stream he forgot to take in account the evaporation and when he was half way down all the water was gone."

"Was he killed?"

"No, it happened that one of our sudden heavy rains came up, and he landed in eight feet of water."

MARRIED MAN

Customer—I suppose you are your own boss?

Barber—No, sir. I'd give anything to be single again.

The Choice of All Parties!

Liquor Control Board Asks For Public To Help

Would Have Public Help Eliminate Disrespect For State Liquor Laws

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25—Clyde E. Smith, chief of licensing and enforcement of the liquor control board today called upon a united public sentiment to help eliminate disrepect for liquor laws in Pennsylvania.

Addressing delegates attending the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Hotel Association here, Smith declared:

"The Prohibition era brought with it a complete collapse of law observance and ushered in a period of lawlessness. Racketeers entered into all manners of business and with the money amassed in these rackets managed to have laws passed detrimental to the public good through their filthy money secure positions of trust for persons who would do their beck and call, and thereby corrupted our legislative bodies, our courts, our local governments."

Smith pointed out that the state liquor board has a force of only 80 enforcement officers whose duty it is to keep the liquor laws enforced. Since April 1, 1934, he said, these men have instituted 7,112 criminal actions, of which 2,551 cases resulted in guilty pleas or convictions.

NAVAL NOTES

By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

Four new "greyhounds of the sea" were placed on the active list of the navy during the month of August. Two were designated to replace overage ships, and two designed as destroyers division leaders. The division leaders are almost twice as large as the old type destroyer, and the new destroyers are about one-third larger. They have higher gun platforms, and the navigating bridge of the leaders will have improved vision and greater range, enabling the commander to better direct his ships in action. The Cassin, of 1500 tons, was commissioned at the Philadelphia navy yard August 21, as was the Porter, of 1850 tons, on August 27. The 1500-ton destroyer Cushing was commissioned at the Puget Sound navy yard on August 28 and on the same date the Moffett was commissioned at the Boston navy yard. These new destroyers will bring the total of new ships of this type to 16.

The cry "man overboard" on naval vessels is followed by the breaking out and immediately lowering to the dip of the numeral five flag to indicate the emergency. The night signal that a man has gone overboard is the display of two flashing red lights from the mainmast. A signalman is sent aloft to keep a lookout and at night searchlights are brought into play. When ships are steaming in column formation, the odd numbered ships shear out to the right and the even numbered ones to the left. This is done to avoid hitting the man in the water. It is merely the question of seconds from the time of the cry "man overboard" until a boat is on its way to the relief of the one in the water.

Suicide's Body Found In Auto

Body Identified As That Of Robert Mays, Jr., About 30 Years Old

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Sept. 25—A 38 calibre revolver in his hand and a letter lying by his side, the body of a man identified as Robert Mays, Jr. aged about 30, was found in a parked automobile near Keewaydin, about 26 miles northeast of here Thursday.

The letter, addressed to Judge H. Robert Mays of Stoney Creek Mills, Pa., spoke of his "lonely life" and gave effusive thanks to Mrs. Mays for all that she had done for him. It was signed "Bobby" and addressed to "Uncle Bob."

Suicide Victim

Other letters in his effects indicated that the young man had committed suicide, said Coronor R. L. Williams. The only address in his effects was 610 Sixth street, Milner Hotel, Reading, Pa.

He was believed to be a college man since a fraternity pin was found on the body by Coroner Williams. The coroner stated he believed the young man had driven to the spot late yesterday and committed the act last night. No inquest will be held.

The body was found within a few yards of the same spot where John L Briner, former president of Leesport rural telephone company, near Reading, asphyxiated himself in his car last November 20.

Knock, Knock, Who's There? Quack Quack Allege Druggists

National Convention Declares War On Makers Of Fake Medicines

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—If the aims of the National Association of Retail Druggists come true, fake medical products, quacks, and falsely labelled bottles will be taboo in the future, prohibiting the counterfeiting of labels and stopping the manufacture of many products which have labels, professing to be manufactured in non-existing cities in foreign countries.

The druggists, in their national convention, declared "war" on fake manufacturers, uniting to fight against the prevalent habit, declared Charles Ehlers, Cleveland, president of the organization.

"The retail group, working with the American Pharmaceutical association, are striving towards pure food legislation, as well," Ehlers stated.

Use 20 Tons Of Dynamite To Topple Hill

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Parts of New Haven and Hamden were shaken as if by an earthquake when 20 tons of dynamite, in one of the biggest single blasting operations on record here, loosened a huge hill into 180,000 tons of trap rock.

For 40 years the Pine Rock quarry yielded trap rock and the supply loosened from the hillside was expected to last for 18 months after which the quarry will close.

The noise of the blast was heard only a short distance as tunnels had been cut extending 80 feet into the rock and then branched out so as to undermine the entire hillside. The rock shot into the air and landed within 40 feet.

Chairs rocked, dishes and windows rattled for five seconds as a result of the explosion but no damage was reported.

New Smelter Extracts Ore By Oxidization

(International News Service)

THE DALLES, Ore.—A new—and radically different—type of smelter has been built near here by William and Edward Seufert, mining operators.

The new smelter operates on a principle which experts formerly declared to be impossible—extraction of metals from more by means of oxidization, instead of by melting.

The equipment was installed under supervision of Albert J. Koebel, who holds American and Canadian patents on the process. As explained by Koebel, the smelter works as follows:

Pulverized ore is subjected to such terrific heat that it oxidizes instantly, allowing the metals in gaseous state to be drawn off by suction and carried to a so-called "bag-room", which contains a number of bags operating on much the same principle as those on vacuum cleaners.

In the "bag room", the oxygen is removed and the gases return to metallic form.

Koebel claims his system is superior to others in that it recovers virtually all of the metals from the ore. Other systems, he said, cause conisderable loss of metals through oxidization.

Although designed primarily for experimental purposes, the smelter here has a capacity of five to nine tons of concentrates daily. This amount, it was said, is equal to about forty tons of ore as taken from the mine. The plant is now engaged mostly with ore containing silver, lead and zinc, and by-products of the ore have been manufactured into paint.

Portugal Adopts Fascist Salute

(International News Service)

LISBON, Portugal—Portugal has officially adopted the stiff-armed Roman salute which Benito Mussolini revived 15 years ago and which Germany, with slight variations, imitated later under Hitler.

Leaders of the Federation of Portugese syndicates, roughly corresponding to the Italian Fascist Workers' Federation, ordered hat-lifting abolished as the formal form of salutation.

"The energetic Roman salute", they decreed, "will hereafter replace the slovenly, unmilitary custom of lifting your hat."

The orders adopting the Fascist salute came significantly after vigorous anti-communist campaigns in which the Red Government of Madrid was vigorously denounced

The sympathies of the Portugese people are openly with the rebel insurgents.

'SUICIDE SONG' ONLY A JOKE

(International News Service)

SYDNEY, Australia — "Gloomy Sunday", the morbid Hungarian love song, which is said to have led to 19 suicides in Hungary and several in the United States, is only a joke to Australians.

Records of the song have been played by most Australian broadcasting stations and, according to the Australian publishers of the song, it has caused no complaint. The public did not take it seriously, it was stated.

Composed by a Hungarian, Laazlo Javor, after an unhappy love affair, the song was stated to have caused 18 suicides in Hungary. Among them was the woman who "inspired" the song.

But how can Roosevelt use government money to get votes when a voter with money in his pocket is a Republican?

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Reject Savings Account At Bank

Washington Writer Urged To Invest Money In Government Bonds

BANKS LOADED WITH SECURITIES

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—I know little about banking. Therefore I draw no moral from this little tale that I am about to relate. I don't comprehend fully what the moral is. However, I am personally familiar with the circumstances, for whatever their significance may be. To some reader they may have a meaning. If so I would appreciate having him enlighten me by mail.

I am curious for one thing.

Furthermore, perhaps other folk ought to be informed.

Colonel Knox has been referring recently to savings accounts, as well as to insurance policies, and my story relates to the matter of savings accounts. Thus the subject is timely.

CHECKING TO SAVINGS

Odd as it may seem in the case of a poor newspaperman, I have a small checking (not savings) account in a very substantial Washington banking house.

Not long ago it struck me that it would be a bright idea to transfer some of this cash into savings, to draw a little interest. It wasn't a large sum. Still, it was a few hundreds; enough to be worth having, I thought.

So I asked the teller, as I was making a deposit, how to go about it.

"Just draw a check," rejoined the teller, pointing to a personage at a desk behind a brass rail (a cashier or vice president, I judged), "and take it to that chap over there. He'll o. k. it for you. Then put it in through the savings window."

So I drew the check and submitted it, as per instructions.

SAVINGS REJECTED

"Sorry," said the functionary, "but we're not accepting any more savings accounts now."

I was surprised and probably looked it, for the man at the desk admitted, "No doubt it seems queer that we can't take your money, but it's on account of government financing."

He added:

"Why don't you buy government bonds?"

Well, I didn't buy government bonds. I kept my checking account.

I did try to get this banker to go a little into details but he was reticent.

I also tried to get some information from the treasury department but officials there were even less communicative than my friend at the bank. One of them, did indeed, repeat the latter's question—"Why don't you buy government bonds?"

A FRIEND'S VIEW

Later, however, I consulted a very intimate acquaintance of long experience in the banking business, who, I thought, might be willing to talk to me confidentially.

"Well, you see," he answered, "the banks are so cram-jam full of government securities that they haven't any further capacity for your money. Your money would draw a higher rate of interest than they receive on government securities. They can't afford that, either.

"They have, in fact, much more government stuff than they want.

"But if they balk, the government says, 'Oh, yes, you can stand a lot more than you've got.' And then, if they still balk, the government can 'put the heat' on them. A bank can be examined half to death. They yield.

"That guy knew what he was talking about when he said, 'Why don't you buy government bonds?' He wanted you to take some of his bank's bonds off its hands."

GOVERNMENT LOANS

I don't know how prevalent this situation is throughout the country.

I do know that it exists in Washington, in the shadow of the treasury.

I've been up against it myself.

If this isn't government competition with would-be private savings bank depositors, I don't know what is.

"For that matter," said my confidential informant, "the reason that new industrial issues can't get a foothold is that the banks are so stuffed up with government paper that they can't let go of any of their money for anything else."

WHEN IS A VEHICLE

(International News Service)

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky.—When is a vehicle a vehicle, or two vehicles? That was the question confronting the Whitney county quarterly court. A jury found that John Caulifield, charged with driving a truck which was over-length, was driving two vehicles, although the front wheels of one were mounted on the rear of the other. The decision acqquitted him.

Three Rescued From Seaplane Adrift At Sea

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 25—Adrift in a disabled flying boat for 17 hours from Monday until Tuesday, Pilot Lynn Staples, of the Inca Mining Corporation, his mechanic, George Land, and Mrs. Henry Field of Chicago, were safe Thursday after being rescued by a fishing boat.

Mrs. Field, wife of a son of the late Marshall Field, left immediately by train for Chicago.

The trio started their flight at Carcross, in the Yukon territory, where Staples had been examining mining claims.

They ran out of gasoline while flying over Queen Charlotte Sound, known as the most stormy section of the British Columbia coast. Staples maintained altitude until he reached the Southern end of the sound.

The three castaways then drifted and paddled for 17 hours until a passing fishing boat rescued them and towed the plane to Port Hardy.

"See Pennsylvania" Movement Starts

Scenic Commission Seeks To Arrange Tours Through Parts Of State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—A "see Pennsylvania" movement was in progress today.

An invitation has been sent to eleven railroad passenger executives it was announced, to meet with the Pennsylvania Scenic and Historic commission for the purpose of discussing the possibility of arranging tours through historical sections of the state.

"I have in mind," said Warren Van Dyke, secretary of highways and chairman of the commission, "especially trips into remote parts of the state, which may be termed 'off-the-beaten-path' excursions."

The railroads invited are the Pennsylvania, Reading, Baltimore & Ohio, Delaware and Hudson, Central Railroad of New Jersey, New York Central, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, Erie, Delaware, Lackawanna and western, Western Maryland and Lehigh Valley.

Van Dyke said the development of winter sports "in Monroe, McKean, Somerset and other counties" will also be discussed.

The modern idea of beginning at the bottom is to take a job as mere fourth vice president.

Motor Express Company Faces Trial Monday

Youngstown Firm Will Face Trial For Death Of School Teacher On Fallston Hill

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Sept. 15.—Asserting he would continue his drive to eliminate automobile fatalities on the treacherous "death curve" at the foot of Fallston hill near here, Beaver County District Attorney Robert E. McCreary today said he was ready with his case against the Motor Express company of Youngstown scheduled to be tried next Monday.

The Youngstown company, and William Schromm, also of Youngstown, driver of the Motor Express truck from which a nine-ton steel casting rolled over on the car of Miss Margaretta McCowin, 28-year-old school teacher, who was instantly killed, were recently indicted on involuntary manslaughter charges in connection with the accident.

Drivers Freed.

On Wednesday of this week, two Detroit drivers, W. Mason McCullouch and Alfred E. Brain, were acquitted on similar charges in connection with the deaths of Bert Bromley, 48; his wife Henrietta, 38, and their ten-year-old son, Bert, Jr. The commonwealth had charged McCulloch, part owner of the truck, was guilty of wanton negligence in that he had not taken every care to keep his brakes in working order. McCulloch testified in his own defense that he had "taken every reasonable precaution" and a jury of eight men and four women acquitted him. Brain was freed by direction of Judge Frank E. Reader when testimony developed that he was only a driver's assistant and not properly held responsible.

The Bromleys, residents of Colmarmanor, Md., died when the McCulloch truck toppled over upon their sedan and it burst into flames, trapping them in the wreckage.

The abundant life has its faults, too. Every time you get equipped for it, the manufacturers bring out new models.

Highlights In Landon's Minneapolis Address

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 25.—Some highlights from Governor Alfred M. Landon's address on the New Deal's reciprocal trade agreements:

The reciprocal trade program of the present administration has delayed recovery for our farmers. It has sold the American farmer down the river.

I am not opposed to reciprocal trade agreements. * * * under certain conditions. * * * The kind of trade agreements now being made * * * are injurious to American citizens and offensive to American principles.

I am opposed to a policy of isolation. * * * healthy international trade is essential to world prosperity. * * * World prosperity is good insurance against war.

At a time like the present, when economic nationalism is rampant, we cannot afford to scrap our economic defense. We can be a good neighbor without gaving away the latchkey to our door.

The great enemy of world trade today * * * is the war-inspired doctrine of isolation and its resulting demands for self-sufficiency. * * * We must not join in this kind of madness.

The administration was trying to hold the nation's supply of meat by restricting the production of hogs. * * * Yet it proceeded to make concessions on Canadian cattle that would bring more of them into this country. Such a program just doesn't make sense.

We are now one of the largest importers not only of those things we do not produce but of those we are adapted to produce. This is a scandalous situation.

Republicans are going to trade, not against, but in the interest of, American producers. In too many of the present agreements, we are the fellow who got the blind horse.

We must not reduce farm production in this country to the needs of the domestic market. This is the doctrine of despair. * * * The Republican party * * * believes in making it possible for the farmer to plant crops. * * * It believes the American farmer worthy of prosperity.

Tells Of Horror In Spain's War

Terrible Toll Is Being Taken In Civil War Conflict Says Correspondent

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

HEADQUARTERS OF FOREMOST COLUMN OF SPANISH FOREIGN LEGION AGAINST MADRID, Santa Olalla, Spain, Sept. 25.—With dreadful fatalities the Spanish civil war is approaching peace as the white armies press on to within sight of Toledo, and today I saw far too many of the 15,000-odd casualties which Major Antonio Castejon assured me the legion has inflicted in the last seven days' fighting to gain 30 miles from Talavera de la Reina to Torrijos.

Nothing I have seen in 10 weeks' observation of every Spanish front could equal the horrifying spectacle of fields and roads from Santa Olalla to the east of Maqueda and on to the ancient village of Torrijos.

I invited an editor who criticized the Spanish civil war for being a diletantte affair to pause with me beside a red armored car which had careened off the side of the Santa Olalla road.

Five dead men lie huddled beside it, another is hanging out of the door, another is crumpled up inside and an eighth has leaped clear of the car. In this little incident a Morish soldier merely crept close enough to toss a couple of hand grenades inside the armored car, and this was the result.

I counted 15 other red dead in one heap—evidently caught by one blast of machine gun fire. A bit further along the road corpses of red militia literally filled the ditches.

For several miles we had to drive slowly and pick a way between the sprawling human wreckage.

This is in truth one of the most bitterly contested civil wars in history, and to that not merely human corpses attested.

The very aspect of the fields told this story. Every hillside is lined with trenches, and there were half a dozen complete sets of barbed wire entanglements along this 30 miles.

Japan Plans No Hasty Move

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 25—Japan regards the Chinese situation with "utmost seriousness" and demands a satisfactory settlement, but has no intention of taking "hasty action."

This assurance was given to the British Ambassador today in Tokyo, the foreign office here announced.

How gravely Britain regards the Sino-Japanese flare-up following the latest of a series of murders in China was revealed by the fact that the ambassador called at the Japanese foreign ministry, "formally to inquire Japan's intentions" in the Hongkew section of Shanghai, which was under Japanese military guard for two days.

"dont put the cart before the horse"

"THAT'S what a neighbor told me when I complained of dingy grey clothes and dull streaked dishes!

'You've got to cut the grease first before the water has a chance to wash the dirt away', was her advice. 'This problem calls for more than an ordinary cleanser . . . you need a grease solvent . . . CLIMALENE!'

I took her tip, sprinkled CLIMALENE into the water before adding my soap flakes!

For the first time I watched a real cleansing combination go to work. I was duly rewarded with snow-white clothes and gleaming dishes!

CLIMALENE not only cut the grease, it cut my working time ½, saved ½ my soap!

You can bet CLIMALENE goes in the water now, before I put the soap in!"

Bertha Peyton Gives Birth To Son In Hospital

Eddie (Swing It) Peyton, Bandmaster Father Is Serving Term In Workhouse

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—The baby that Eddie (Swing It) Peyton hoped would get him out of the workhouse had arrived today—but the bandmaster was still in jail.

The new Peyton, a boy, arrived last night at Mercy hospital, where this morning pretty Bertha Peyton, the mother, was reported doing nicely.

As soon as his son was born, a nurse telephoned the good news to Eddie at Allegheny county workhouse. What the band leader said was not recorded, but he was given permission to write his wife at once.

Just a week ago, Peyton, who is serving a one-to-three year term for aggravated assault and battery, petitioned Judge M. A. Musmanno through his attorneys to be set free because he was an expecant father.

'Ear' Witnesses Will Be Called

Lineup Witnesses At Uniontown For Prosecution Of Three In Monaghan Death

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 25.—Ten so-called "ear" witnesses have been lined up for prosecution of two state troopers and a county detective, and possibly others, for the alleged "third degree" murder of Frank C. Monaghan, 64, hotelkeeper, state investigators on the staff of Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, stated today.

The attorney general's aides, J. J. Devine and L. R. Lindgren, said the witnesses were believed able to corroborate Margiotti's charge Monaghan died as the result of a "barbarous and brutal beating" at the hands of police questioners. The "third degree," it is charged, was administered when police sought to obtain the elderly hotel owner's confession that he knifed Chief County Detective John C. Wall following his arrest for drunken driving.

Heard Pleas

It was asserted the witnesses told of hearing Monaghan's voice through the walls of the Bertillon room in the basement of the courthouse, where the questioning went forward, pleading.

"Leave me alone. Please don't do that!"

Margiotti was expected to arrive here later today to resume his personal investigation of the case, at which time it is thought he will name a special prosecutor to take over the case. It has been reported the attorney general may name himself to the post.

State Highway Department Maintains 100,000 Bridges

By WARREN VAN DYKE
Secretary of Highways

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—The importance of bridges to an efficient highway system cannot be stressed too strongly. For, after all, bridges are the links in a highway system and no highway system is stronger than its links.

You have heard that before, but it is such an important point that I wish to emphasize and re-emphasize it.

Bridges in Pennsylvania and other states have long been neglected. Thousands of miles of splendid highways are inefficient and dangerous because adequate bridges were not built. Because many hundred feet of roads could be built for what even a short span bridge would cost, the old, inadequate bridges were allowed to remain.

Of course, this couldn't go on indefinitely without serious trouble. The idea was to get the roads through and then come back and replace the old, indequate and sometimes tottering spans. But the demand for more good roads continued, and there has been no time—and no money—for bridge building.

In this country there are thousands of narrow, obsolete, dangerous bridges, condemned and restricted as to loads. Thousands of them are unable to stand the beating they take from modern traffic.

An act of the 1935 legislature thransferred 7950 bridges to Sate jurisdiction, thus easing the local tax burden, but greatly increasing the Highway Department's responsibilities. Altogether the department has under it supervision about 100,000 bridges. Many must be rehabilitated or replaced speedily if our highways are to be efficient and safe arteries of traffic.

Many bridges were swept away during the floods of last March. Had not the state taken over the 7950 bridges—4321 township bridges, 3301 county bridges—many local governmental units would have been swept to financial ruin because of their lack of funds to repair and replace these lost spans. Most of the bridges taken over are in poor condition, making it necessary for the Highway Department to set up a $4,000,000 fund fo. strengthening and replacement of bridges in the first year.

You may be sure that the Pennsylvania Department of Highways under my stewardship will do its utmost to bridge the big gaps that now exist in the state system. We fully realize the importance of bridges and are doing and will continue to do our utmost to make every bridge in the state adequate and safe for modern traffic. It's a big job, but we like big jobs when we have the money to accompish them.

PLAINGROVE

HONOR BRIDE AND GROOM

A shower was held at the Consolidated school for Prof. W. L. Rainey and his wife, a recent bride and groom. The school board members and their wives and the school teachers were the committee that had charge of the shower. This was also a community affair. "An Old Fashioned School" was presented with Clair Smith as the teacher, while songs, duets, recitations and readings were given by the different pupils of the school. Special music on the guitar and songs were given by Harold Connell, one of the pupils. Miss Lillian Patterson and Miss McCollough rendered a musical duet. Pep singing was led by Miss McCollough, with Miss Leora McCommon at the piano. A speech, "Advice to the Bride and Groom," was given by Clair Smith. There was a presentation of the gifts by Given Shaw.

The gifts were an occasional chair, floor lamp, end table, purse of money and some miscellaneous presents. Afterwards lunch was served by the wives of the school board members, assisted by their husbands.

HONORED WITH SHOWER

The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Eppinger, a recent bride and groom, held a shower at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eppinger, on Monday evening. There were quite a few families represented. The bride and groom received many useful and beautiful gifts. After the opening of the gifts, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her aides. The bride and groom will make their home in the Smith cottage on the Slippery Rock-New Castle road.

Tony Casillo Is Victim Of Powder Blast

Former New Castle Man Killed In Fireworks Factory At Danville, Ill.

Tony Casillo, aged about 39 years, who spent most of his lifetime in New Castle, met instant death from an explosion Thursday in the Illinois Fireworks Company, Danville, Ill., where he had been employed since leaving this city two years ago.

Casillo was in New Castle for over 25 years, 17 of which were passed in the employ of the Conti Fireworks concern. He was very well known, has relatives here and an uncle at Lowellville. His home used to be on West Washington street.

His sudden death, details concerning which were not revealed in the telegrams here, was a great shock to his wife and relatives and leaves seven little girls fatherless.

Two Chattertons Are Found Guilty

Mercy Recommended In Case Of William Chatterton; Other Verdicts

Jury in the case of William Chatterton, charged with aggravated assault and battery and mahem, which was tried at court before Judge W. Walter Braham, returned a verdict of guilty of Mahem and recommended the mercy of the court. His brother, George Chatterton, who was tried for aggravated assault and battery, was found guilty on the second count of the indictment, charging assault and battery. The two men were charged with beating up Walter Shinsky, during an altercation in a barroom at Ellwood City.

Joe Rogers, charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor child, was found guilty.

James Barone, charged with neglecting to support an illegitimate child, was found guilty.

When the case of Joseph's Market was called for trial before Judge W. Walter Braham at court yesterday, the defendants waived a trial by jury and agreed to have the case submitted to Judge Braham. The case was brought under the pure food act, it being claimed that misbranded sausages had been sold. Judge Braham heard the testimony and will render a decision later.

The same action was taken in the case of Badger and Fleeger in which the sale of misbranded bacon was charged.

The case of John Shaughenessy, charged with felonious assault and battery with a knife on John Othites, is on trial before Judge James A. Chambers today. It is claimed that Othites was stabbed near the hips, during a quarrel.

Foreign Investors Have Cleaned Up On U. S. Gold Policies

Senator Vandenberg Writes Letter To Treasury Secretary Morgenthau

Administration Head Admits Vandenberg Is Right, Domestic Situation Affected

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Indications that the administration's gold policies have resulted in huge profits to foreign investors was contained today in an exchange of correspondence between Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) of Michigan.

In a letter to the secretary, Vandenburg contended the United States bought and paid for much more than the entire new gold production of the world in 1934 and 1935 and much more than was necessary to balance this country's international payments.

He argued that this subsidizes foreign investments in the United States.

"It would seem a fair deduction that while Europe cannot find the means to pay our war debts," the letter said, "it can and does find the means to buy our securities. It would at least superficially appear that our own gold purchase program not only encourages this process but also subsidizes it at the expense of the American people."

Could Be Liquidated.

Quoting commerce department statistics, Vandenberg said foreign stock and bond holdings in this country at the end of 1935 amounted to $4,151,000,000 which could be liquidated at any moment by their owners.

"The peril to our own domestic situation in such a contemplation would seem to be quite obvious because if we have anything like $4,000,000,000 on instant foreign call, our financial structure and our price structure rest to a considerable extent on foreign judgment or caprice," the senator added.

Admitting that foreign holdings in the United States have risen steadily, Morgethau's reply, however, expressed little concern over their magnitude.

Constitute No Threat.

"They constitute no threat to continued recovery," the secretary maintained. "A large part of the foreign investments in our securities represents long-term investments in our industry and public utilities and will no more be suddenly liquidated if conditions improve abroad than would investments in those securities by Americans."

Morgenthau conceded that if political disturbances in Europe and in the Orient disappear and if Europe solves its major monetary problems some of the foreign capital which has come here in the form of gold during the past three years will be withdrawn.

"The Black Legion" Is Sermon Subject

Calvary Tabernacle Evangelist Warns Against Yielding Individual Will To Group

Evangelist W. D. Herrstrom, of Akron, O., spoke at the Calvary Presbyterian Tabernacle in East New Castle last night on the subject, "The Black Legion."

"The principle of the Black Legion," the speaker said, "is that the individual surrenders his will to the group and they dictate his actions. Thus the individual will be forced into the commission of a crime that he would not otherwise commit. Also, there is a sense in which the group assumes responsibility for the crime of the individual and thus justice is perverted. Some of these organizations started out with high ideals and degenerated. No human being should yield his will to any group that will force him to pursue a wrong course of action. He should leave himself free to obey God and should permit no one to come between himself and God."

"Present trends in the political industrial and religious realm are toward gigantic organizations headed up by individuals. This looks toward a totalitarian state in which one man will rule. All others will have to yield their wills to him. This is a dangerous condition and portends the time when the world will be under a one man dictartorship—the anti-Christ, as predicted in the Bible."

Tonight Mr. Harrstrom speaks on the subject, "Mussolini's Attempt to Revive the Old Roman Empire by 1940." The message will be illustrated by the latest stereopticon pictures.

Services are held in the Calvary Presbyterian church whenever the weather is unfavorable.

Police Hope To Apprehend Vandals

During the past several days petty thefts from automobiles have been reported to police and last night vandalism came to their attention.

George Shuller, 1026 Dewey avenue, told the officers that boys had let the air from tires. Later they cut the tires, he stated.

Police hope to find out who the vandals are.

Forms Being Built For Surface On West Side Bridge

West Washington Street Bridge To Receive Cement And Amesite Surface

Wooden forms were being constructed for the first time this morning on the West Washington street bridge, to hold the new surface which will be laid in the center of the bridge.

Upon the completion of these forms which will require about 10 days, concrete will be poured. After this has hardened an amesite surface will be placed on top of the cement and this will be used to drive on.

Work has been delayed somewhat because of the difficulty in securing certain portions of steel for the re-enforcement work which has been going on for the past two months. Every girder under the bridge has been re-enforced on both the top and the bottom. The steel has been applied in such a manner that after it has been heated, and then fastened to the grider hot, it will contract in such a manner that it will hold greater weight.

According to Ernest Nelson, inspector, this job should be completed in three or four weeks. A definite date could not be set, however, because of the delay in the steel shipments.

'Mulatto' Given Here Last Night

Drama Starring James Kirkwood Is Well Received By Cathedral Audience

Although the size of the audience was not as encouraging as the production deserved, the cast of "Mulatto" headed by James Kirkwood and Mercedes Gilbert was accorded an appreciative reception in the Cathedral Thursday night.

The drama based on the social problem of "children without a race" was brought to New Castle by the Art Society and was announced as the first of a number of productions to be brought here this season if the community wants them. The patronage last night should not be taken too disheartenigly for "Mulatto," with all its splendid acting and well rounded cast, was not the type of a drama to bring a box-office stampede.

If the Art Society goes ahead with its plans and presents "The Great Waltz" and other shows which have achieved road success the venture will likely be supported here, and certainly appreciated.

"Mulatto" was written by a Negro, Langston Hughes, produced by a white man, Martin Jones, and the cast included both Negro and white players. James Kirkwood is well known to followers of the stage; Miss Gilbert, a Negress, who last appeared in "The Green Pastures," has deservedly won fine notices from critics who have witnessed her performances in the current production.

After the final curtain Mr. Kirkwood said a few words in appreciation of the reception given the company.

Rubber Workers Go Back To Jobs

More Than 10,000 Workers Were Affected By Goodrich Plant Strike

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., Sept. 25.—The main plant of the B. F. Goodrich company, closed since Tuesday midnight as a result of a dispute that started with a sitdown of workers in one department, will resume full operations tomorrow.

This company announcement today followed a vote last night by members of the Goodrich local of the United Rubber Workers of America to bring an end to stoppage of work. Approximately 10,000 have been affected by the shutdown while several thousand office workers and maintenance men remained on duty.

Vote To Return.

The union members voted to return to work when L. L. Callahan, the local's president, who hastened here from the Ohio Federation of Labor convention at Springfield, told them their only choice was to return to work or to go on strike for a closed shop. The dispute was said to have originated when union workers in the braided hose department staged a sitdown in protest against employment of a non-unionist. Tire department workers sat down in a sympathy movement and the shutdown order followed.

The union after a full day's conference between T. G. Graham, Goodrich vice president in charge of operations; President Sherman Dalrymple of the international union and Callahan Wednesday night rejected a company proposal calling for a return to work.

Last night's vote followed a second full day's conference between the three men.

The United Rubber Workers union at its first international convention here last week, declared illegal unauthorized stoppage of work.

"SWING TIME" HAILED AS MUSICAL HIT

A sensational solo dance in blackface by Astaire, the presentation of the newest ballroom rage, the Swing Waltz, some of the most gorgeous settings ever shown on the screen, a star-spangled supporting cast and a brand-new type of story for Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, plus six of the catchiest melodies of Jerome Kern's career, are among the attraction elements of the hilarious musical romance, "Swing Time."

Sparkling with scores of novel features that make it one of the most entertaining filmusicals of recent years, "Swing Time," coming to the Penn Theatre, starting tomorrow, marks the newest-co-starring triumph of the famous dancing comedy stars.

Love affairs and complications feature the story plot, with Astaire endeavoring to rid himself of a haughty fiancee, Betty Furness, so that he can marry Miss Rogers, at the same time trying to discourage a glamorous orchestra leader, Georges Metaxa, who also has matrimonial designs on Ginger.

Victor Moore and Helen Broderick, teamed together as one of the funniest troupers ever to reach the screen, head the supporting cast as a pair of well-meaning but often embarrassing matchmakers, who innocently provide many of the complications, and much of the comedy, of the film. Eric Blore, the convulsing butler of former Astaire-Rogers filmusicals, also has a prominent role in the picture.

A glittering aerial night-club of mirrors and chromium, moored to the tower of Manhattan's tallest skyscraper, forms one of the breath-taking settings of the production. In this unique background, designed by John Harkrider of "The Great Ziegfeld" fame, Astaire and a host of dancing girls put on the spectacular "Bojangles of Harlem" number, with Astaire, in blackface, doing a tap dance with his hands as well as his feet.

Another unusual night-club setting, an arresting expanse of the snow-clad Adirondacks in mid-winter, a theatre, a modernistic dancing academy and several apartments and hotel suites comprise the rest of the backgrounds in which the fast and tuneful action of the picture takes place.

"The Waltz in Swing Time," said to be the smartest innovation in waltzing since its inception, is performed as one of several dancing numbers of Astaire and Miss Rogers. Jerome Kern, who wrote "Roberta," "Showboat" and many other musical hits, and his lyricist, Dorothy Fields, turned out the songs of the picture, with "Pick Yourself Up," "Never Gonna Dance," "The Way You Look Tonight" and "A Fine Romance" already soaring to popularity with music lovers.

Dance Queen

Ginger Rogers again co-stars with Fred Astaire in a lively musical melange of mirth, romance and terpsichoreaan delights. Titled "Swing Time," its melodies are from the pen of Jerome Kern, remembered for his "Roberta."

PACKARD '6' ON VIEW; CONTEST ANNOUNCED

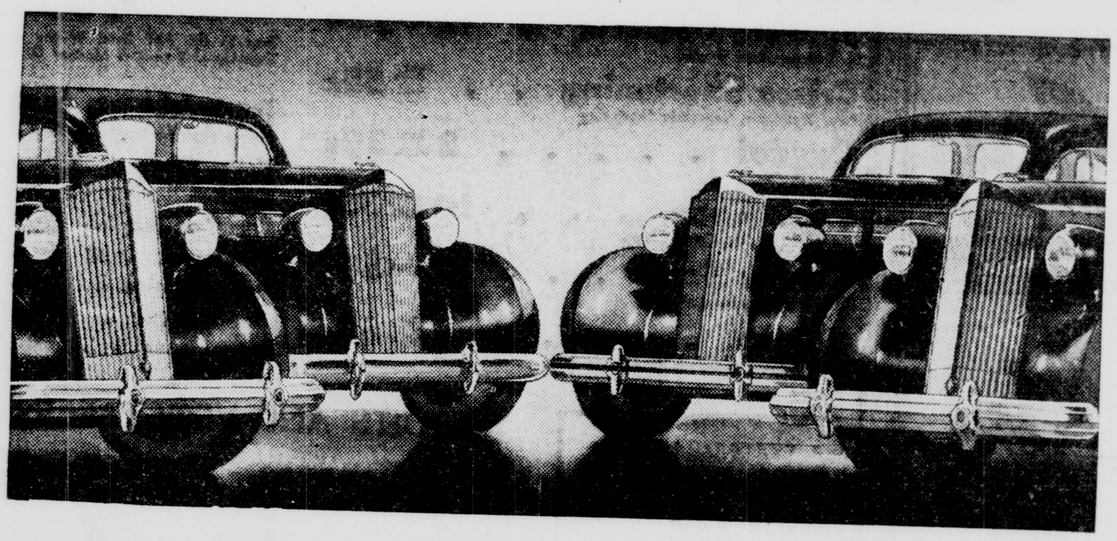

There's an extra thrill for everyone attending the Penn Theatre in addition to the thrill, of course, of seeing Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

On full display during the entire week, will be a new Packard Six, in front of the theater—an alluring and magnificent inducement for every movie goer to enter the Packard "Swing Time" Contest. Twelve of these Packard Sixes will be given as prizes to the winners.

The contest is simplicity itself. Secure a blank at the theatre or from Morgan-Burrows Motor Co., Packard dealer, and in the space allotted, write 25 words or less, on: "What One Thing I Like Best About the New Packard Six." Contest will close November 7, and the winners will be announced Tuesday night, November 24, during the Packard Hour broadcast over Station WCAE. There is no limit to the number of entries and every American is eligible, except employes of the Packard Motor Car Company or their families, or dealers and distributors.

Ginger Rogers, currently co-starring with Fred Astaire in RKO Radio's "Swing Time," generally loses from five to eight pounds during the making of her filmusicals with Astaire.

"SWING TIME" PROMISES BIG TIME FOR MOVIE FANS

PACKARD 120 CONTINUES TO OUTSELL EVERY CAR IN CLASS

Month after month, the Packard 120 has retained its leadership in registration of all cars in its price class. Packard is rightfully proud of this wide public acceptance and points to it as the strongest evidence that in the Packard 120, you will get greater value than offered by any other car selling in this price range.

Introduced less than two years ago, the Packard 120 promptly caught the attention of a public noted for quick discernment of value in motor cars. And now for 1937, Packard offers an even greater 120—a car more beautiful than ever. These famous Packard lines remain, lines that have made Packard the most easily recognized car in the world. What is more important to the owner, is the protection this policy affords him against style depreciation.

Astaire Has Many Talents

Movie critics have been constantly amazed at the seemingly endless versatility of Fred Astaire. When it seems the last word has been spoken in his repertoire of agile dance steps, he has still another step to go. This is strikingly brought out in "Swing Time," with amazing contrasts in tempo and style.

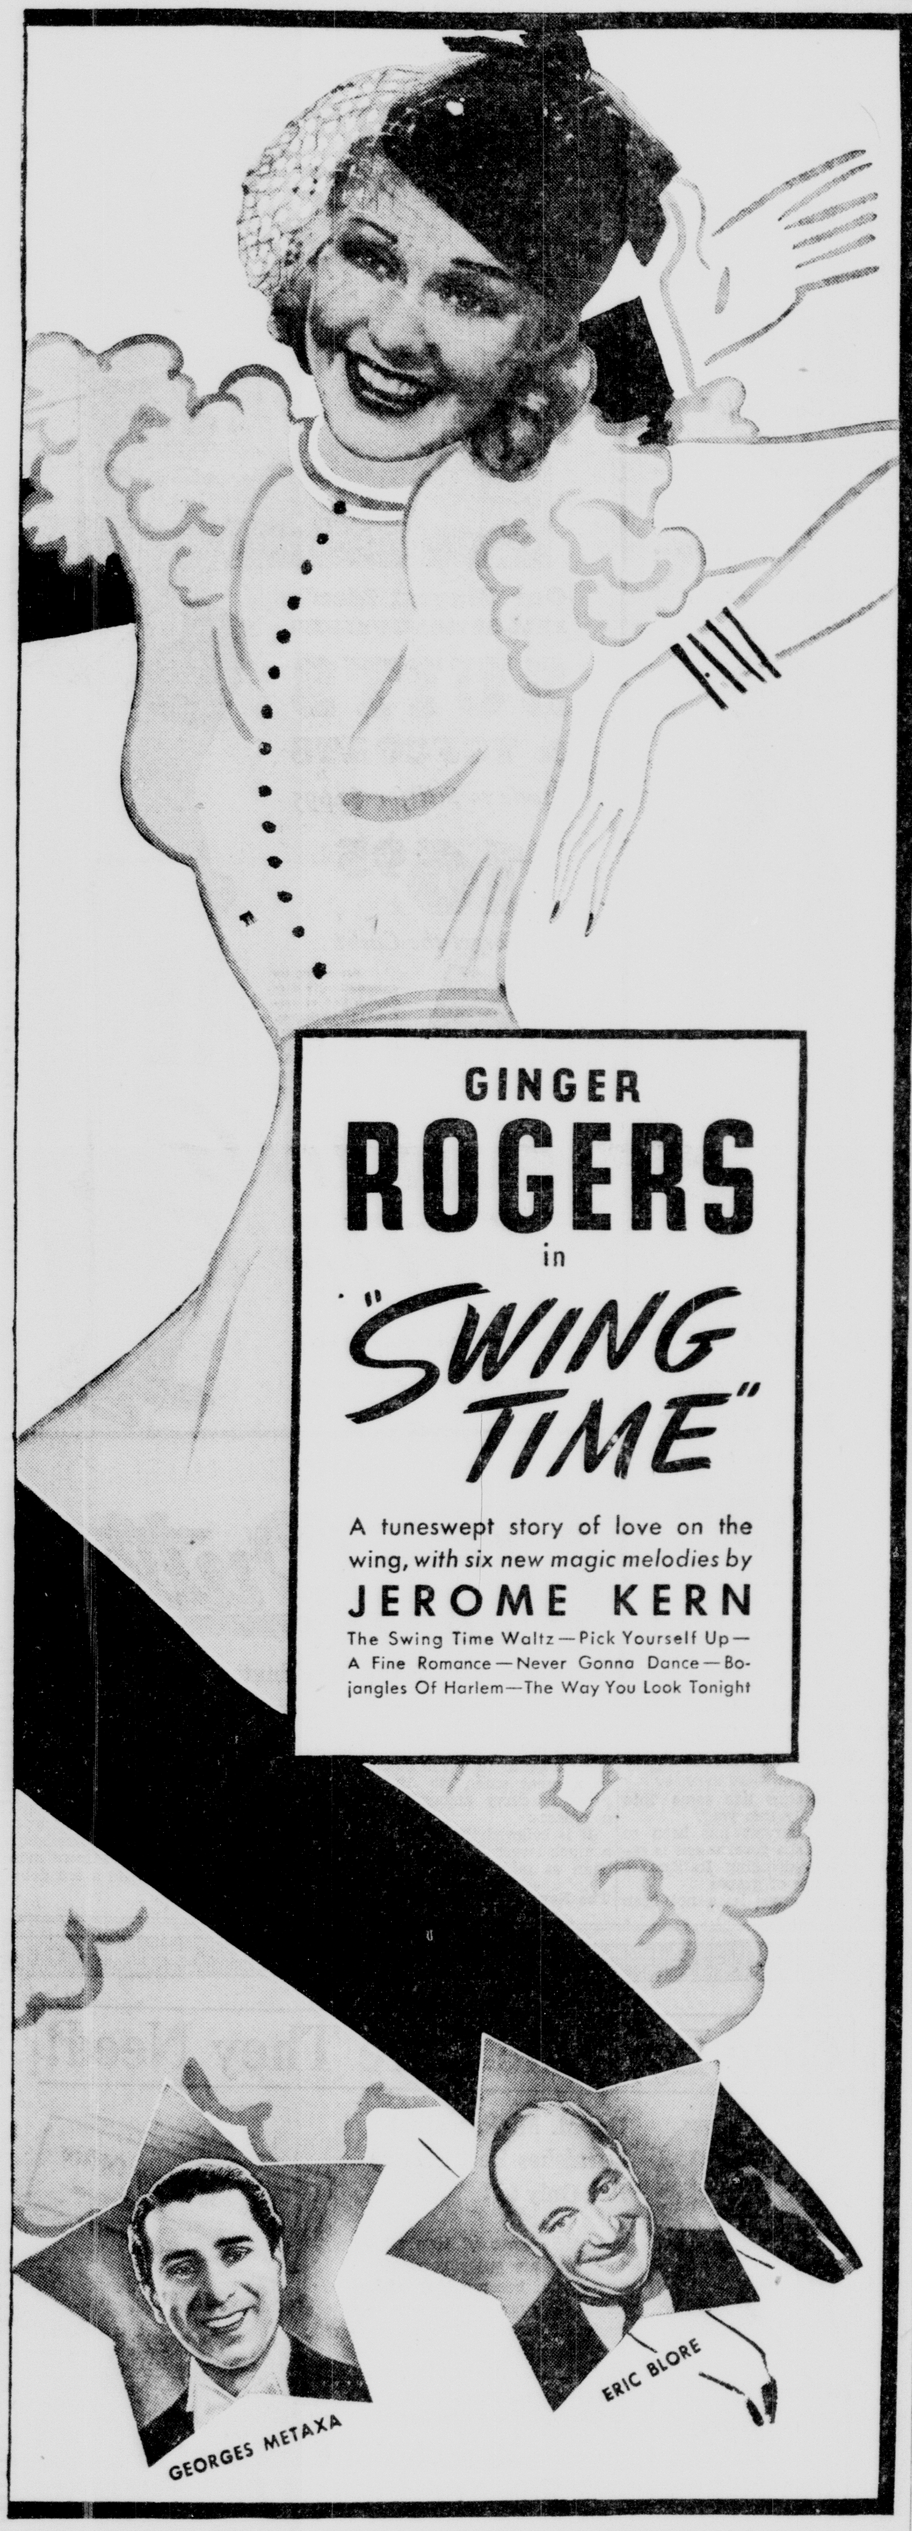

The freshness and vivacity of Fred Astaire is as ever apparent in this picture as in his other great smash hits.

Fred Astaire plays the accordion with the dexterity of a master, the piano amazingly well, and sings with the best. These not-too-often displayed talents are given full range on the New Packard Radio Hour, every Tuesday night at 9:30 over Station WCAE.

"Pick Yourself Up" is the colorful title of one of the comedy dances performed by Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in their current screen hit "Swing Time."

One of the spectacular scenes of RKO Radio's Astaire-Rogers musical, "Swing Time," is the "Bojangles of Harlem" dancing extravaganza. Fred Astaire, in blackface, performs an amazing hand and foot tap routine with twenty-four dancing girls. The number is set in the unique background of a skyscraper-top night club built of mirrors and chromium around a huge floor window, and was designed by John Harkrider, former Ziegfeld designer.

Astaire And Rogers' Great Supporting Cast In 'Swing Time'

Few pictures this season have presented a supporting cast laden with such glittering lights as stud the roster of "Swing Time," the delightful filmusical, co-starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers at the Penn theatre, starting Saturday.

As Astaire's buddy in legerdemain, Victor Moore heads the featured cast. Recruited from the Broadway musical comedy stage on which he appeared in such memorable hits as "Anything Goes" and "Of Thee I Sing," Moore is mated with Helen Broderick, another footlight comedy ace, in "Swing Time."

Betty Furness, feminine charmer, completes a romantic triangle involving Fred and Ginger, Georges Metaxa, singing star of "Cat and the Fiddle" and "Music in the Air," is Fred's rival for Miss Rogers' favor. Eric Blore, who gained a legion of fans as a result of his splendid laugh-making in previous Astaire-Rogers shows, offers a comic characterization in "Swing Time."

Jerome Kern scored "Swing Time," providing "The Way You Look Tonight," "A Fine Romance," "Pick Yourself Up," "Never Gonna Dance," "Bojangles of Harlem" and "The Waltz in Swing Time," the filling dance spectacle treats in the picture. Dorothy Fields is repsonsible for the lyrics for these numbers.

Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, currently co-starring in RKO Radio's "Swing Time," have set a new film record by playing in five consecutive box-office smashes. Although they were first teamed in "Flying Down to Rio," their featured status in that production was raised to stellar ranking in their four following pictures, "The Gay Divorcee," "Roberta," "Top Hat" and "Follow the Fleet."

For the first time since their screen careers joined, Fred Astaire has a romantic rival for the affections of Ginger Rogers in their current RKO Radio musical, "Swing Time." Georges Metaxa, magnetic star of the New York and London musical comedy stages, is the romantic menace.

HELD AT HOME OF MARGARET KILDOO

A grand roundup was held by seven surviving brothers at the home of their niece, Mrs. Margaret Kildoo on the State road, Wednesday, September 23. Mrs. Kildoo proved to be a very gracious hostess and assisted by her daughter, Margaret McConnell, served the old boys with a substantial feed free from all fancy foible and foolish frills, just a collation of viands that would tickle the palate of the most fastidious epicure.

After having gormandized themselves on the splendid dinner the old boys went into a huddle and chose the oldest brother to act as master of ceremonies. There was a secretary appointed and instructed to call the roll, requesting each one to answer giving his name and address. The roll call was as follows:

Elmer E. Bruce, Harlansburg, Pa., 75 years of age.

J. S. Bruce, Slippery Rock, Pa., 73.

W. C. Bruce, Sandy Lake, Pa., 71, and W. W. Bruce, Chandler, Okla., 71, twins.

F. D. Bruce, Tulsa, Okla., 69.

H. L. Bruce, Oklahoma City, Okla., 67.

D. C. Bruce, Plaingrove, Pa., 64.

The total age of the seven brothers is 490 years, averaging 70 years. If there is another family of boys in Lawrence county that can beat this record, please come forward and get a chromo.

The brothers of the effete east thought the meeting ought to be called a reunion, but the brothers from the southwest oil and cattle country thought that roundup or rodeo would be better. So that is what they called it and proceeded to "renite", "roundup" and "reune". All formalities and conventional decorum were abandoned. They entered into a free-for-all exchange of experiences. They recounted their successes and their failures, their hopes and disappointments, their joys and sorrows, spoke of the sunshine and shadows that had fallen across their pathways.

Then somecne piped in and remarked that he thought the confab was getting too mellow for a roundup and suggested something to produce a modern thrill. So they decided it would be an exciting thrill to shoot the master of ceremonies But when they gazed on the innocent-looking old face and listened to his pathetic plea for mercy, they relented and gave him a reprieve for a year provided he would give them an imitation of a Hopi Indian snake dance.

In order to save his life he agreed to do so and entered into the weird ceremonial with an abandon that was really entrancing. He careened, cavorted and caromed. He bounced, bounded and bucked. He writhed, wiggled and wobbled to the sound of an improvised tom-tom pounded on by one of the younger set. The portrayal was so realistic that some of the brothers thought they actually saw living snakes with their beady eyes and forked tongues ready to strike.

After the barbarous incantation the brothers all shook hands and called it a perfect day. After fervent good-byes each brotner went on his own way hoping to meet again at the same place one year hence.

Buy Same Number Of Foreign Hogs As Killed In '33

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—By a peculiar coincidence, approximately the same number of hogs that were slaughtered in the last six months of 1933 under the operation of the AAA, were purchased from foreign countries and imported here in the first six months of this year, Representative Clarence E. Hancock of New York, said today in reviewing the latest official reports from the New Deal's Department of Commerce.

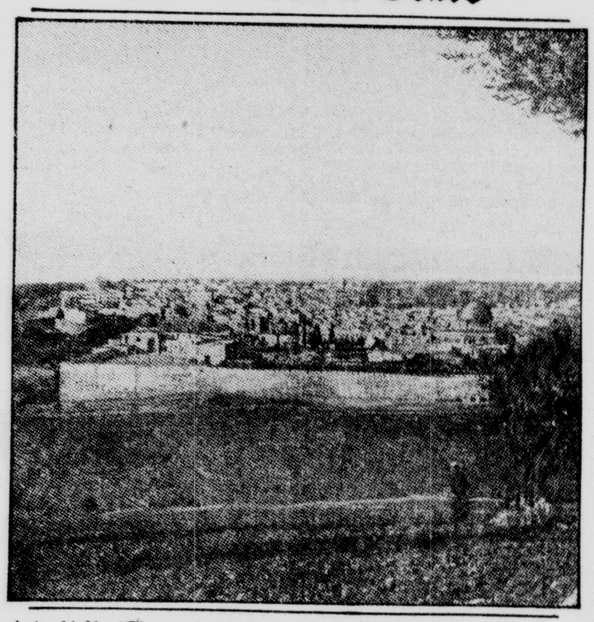

"We slaughtered about 6,500,000 little pigs and brood sows in the last half of 1933 when the AAA was operating illegally, and now Secretary Roper reports that we imported 6,536,000 hogs from January to July this year," said the congressman.

"Maladministration by the New Dealers, both past and present, is conclusively taking the American farmer out of the foreign market and is simultaneously putting the foreign farmer into the American market," he declared.

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Acts 14:27—"They rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and that he had opened a door of faith unto the Gentiles."

By DR ALVIN E. BELL

(The international uniform lesson on the above topic for Sept. 27 is the Quarterly Review Lesson covering chiefly the first 15 chapters of the Acts of the Apostles, the Golden Text being Acts 14:27, "They rehearsed all things that God had done with them, and that he had opened a door of faith unto the Gentiles").

OUR LESSONS of the past three months have covered the period of about 20 years, from the ascension of our Lord to the council at Jerusalem, in which the early Christian church was finding itself in relation to its divinely given commission to witness for Christ, beginning at Jerusalem, Judea and Samaria and going out in ever widening circles unto the uttermost part of the earth

Endued With Power

Before inaugurating his program of world conquest they were commanded to "tarry in the city of Jerusalem until they were endued with power from on high". This power came upon them on the day of Pentecost when they were batized with the Holy Spirit and in his power preached Christ so effectively to those who had crucified him that three thousand of them were converted and baptized into church membership that day.

In this power they ministered healing to a lame man at the temple gate and when asked, "By what power, or in what name have ye done this?" they replied that it was done "in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead."

This power welded the disciples into a brotherhood in which "the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and soul: and not one of them said that aught of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common, and with great power gave the apostles their witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus."

Power For Martyrdom

Stephen witnessed in this power so effectively that he brought upon himself the wrath of his hearers and they stoned him to death. But this first of the noble army of the martyrs prayed for his persecutors in almost the identical words his Lord had used on the cross for his crucifiers, "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge."

In this power Philip carried the gospel to Samaria, ignoring an ancient race prejudice of his own people towards the Samarians, "and there was much joy in that city." Thence at the call of God he carried the gospel into a lonely desert where it resulted in the conversion of a native of far away Ethiopia.

Saul Yields To This Power

Saul of Tarsus, after fighting against the Spirit's power in the lives of Christ's witnesses until ne became the church's chief persecutor, finally yielded himself in surrender to the power of the risen Christ, and became the church's chief propagator and its great apostle to the Gentiles. Empowered by the Holy Spirit, Paul carried the gospel into foreign fields, working primarily among Gentiles, the church at Jerusalem in council approving this wider ministry which recognized no restricting racial barriers in the "preaching of the gospel to the whole creation."

Ancient Manuscript Is Now Owned Here

Pennsylvania State College Now Has Cuneiform Block 2,700 Year Old

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 25.—In 1855, William Boutcher, artist with the British museum expedition of that date, returned from Ninevah with an ancient manuscript—approximately 2,700 years old—which he had dug up in that vicinity.

Recently the writing, a block of Assyrian Cuneiform manuscript, was presented to the library of Pennsylvania State college by J. M. Andrews of Philadelphia, member of the executive committee of the board of trustees, who had inherited it from another Andrews, to whom it was presented by Boutcher.

The block, the oldest manuscript in the possession of the college, was described as being "in all probability a portion of an inscription of Ashurnasurpal, who reigned as king of Assyria from 884 to 860 B. C." and contains two understandable lines: "He arranged for battle" and "Ashur and the great gods came to my help."

This Ought To Make Bathing Popular

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Sept. 25.—There's soapsuds in the water at the Teachers' College here for the first time since 1889, due to a water softening system which was completed this week. The equipment cost $2,800 and the building to house it $3,500.

GETTING SALTIER

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—Saltier, but not smaller. That is the diagnosis of experts regarding changes taking place in Great Salt Lake. Engineers pointed out the lake's present salt content is 28 per cent, nearly the saturation point. Additional salt will merely crystalize in the lake bed.

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 24.—Funeral services will be held at his late home at 2:30 p.m., Saturday, for Lloyd M. Bartleson, 52, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, whose death resulted from a stroke.

He was a past master of Sharpsville Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, and was a member of the New Castle Consistory. He leaves four sisters and one brother.

WHY PUT UP WITH PIMPLES, WRINKLES AND A SALLOW SKIN?

So many women throw their charm and beauty away—look years older than they are—because they neglect common constipation. They forget that badly balanced meals, over a period of years, can change how they look and feel.

Often their menus lack the "bulk" needed for regular habits. Then constipation, the beauty-killer, sets in. Other effects may be headaches, listlessness, sleeplessness.

Get "bulk" back into your meals with a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It absorbs moisture within the body, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ITALY ENCOURAGES WINE CONSUMPTION

(International News Service)

ROME—Bacchus has come into his own in Italy this year.

The grape harvest has been so plentiful that the government is requesting wine-drinking Italians to make more use of grapes.

Other fruit crops have not been very abundant and oranges and lemons which are produced on a large scale in Italy are now shipped to a great extent to Abyssinia to prevent scurvy among the Italian colonizers.

It is believed the grapes will find a much larger consumption as drink than as table fruit.

How Motorists Filled The Till For 'Uncle Sam'

Pennsylvanians Shell Out $18,443,000 In Federal Taxes During Last Year

BIG "DIVVY" ALSO GOES TO THE STATE

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25—Pennsylvania motorists paid a total of $18,443,000 in federal taxes last year, according to figures compiled by the Keystone Automobile club in an effort to obtain a lower tax on automobiles.

William S. Canning, engineering director of the club, allotted the sum thus: $11,455,000 in gas tax; $1,130,000 in oil tax; $3,514,000 in special taxes on motor cars and trucks and $2,344,000 in levies on parts, accessories, tires and tubes.

"This burden of federal taxation is all the more irksome," declared Canning, "when it is considered that these taxes are not dedicated to highway uses, but are collected for general governmental purposes.

"Pennsylvania motorists paid the state in gasoline taxes and motor vehicle fees more than $72,000,000 last year. With the government levies added, the motorist tax bill exceeded $91,300,000."

With the tax bill this high, the average motorist's bill to the govment and state was approximately $52.33, according to figures the club obtained from the United States Bureau of Public Roads and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Of this total, $10.58 per vehicle represented the federal government's share.

Pennsylvania automobile owners consumed 1,171,439,000 gallons of gasoline in 1935, on which they paid the state taxes aggregating $40,707,000. They also paid the commonwealth $32,155,000 in registration and miscellaneous fees, the club reported.

"Now is the time for motorists to make known to their representatives in congress, and to candidates for congress, their determined position to continuance of federal automotive taxation," Canning concluded.

MADE GUITAR FROM 7,773 MATCHES

AMITY, Ark., Sept. 25.—Van Denny, farmhand for Delmos Howell at Rosebud, near here, didn't have a guitar.

So he made one.

The instrument, known as the "Little Jumbo" guitar was made from 7,773½ matches. One n[illegible], and two ounces of glue were necessary to stick the matches together.

The job, done mostly at night after Denny was through his day's work, required five months to complete. The neck of the instrument is made of native Bois de Arc and is also hand made. The quitar has a perfect tone and sounds louder than the ordinary instrument of this kind.

Denny, an accomplished musician, is proud of his job.

FREEZING WEATHER usually strikes at night, catches thousands unprepared who leave warm, cheery homes to join the midnight rush for anti-freeze. You've probably joined the last-minute protection parade yourself. But there's no need to do it again. Get Eveready Prestone and get your car off your mind. Today is a good time to do it.

No matter how warm it may be today . . . how warm the weather becomes between cold snaps, Eveready Prestone stands by you, keeps motor protection at par. Eveready Prestone will not boil off . . . no matter what the temperature is . . . no matter how hard you drive.

KNOW WHAT YOU'RE BUYING

Approximately 50 brands of anti-freeze are being marketed under various names. Most of them are based on alcohol, and because they are not plainly labeled it is easy to become confused. Just ask your dealer this simple question about any anti-freeze you are considering buying: "How much of this product is alcohol?" That is important, for alcohol, no matter how disguised or what it is called, is subject to evaporation, leaving you without adequate protection.

Your dealer will tell you that Eveready Prestone contains no alcohol . . . and that it will not boil off or evaporate.

New Castle Has Larger Proportion Of Children Than Average For U.S.

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25.—Because it has more children in proportion to women than the average for the United States, New Castle is one of the cities which will play an increasingly important part in maintaining the country's population in years to come.

This is the conclusion reached by application of census bureau figures, according to a new theory just advanced by Dr. Theodore B. Manny, University of Maryland sociologist.

New Castle has 1,616 children to each thousand women, according to latest available census bureau figures, while the average for the nation as a whole is 1,111 children per thousand women.

In expounding his theory, Dr. Manny pointed out that Baltimore and most other large cities of the country are failing to maintain a natural population increase, leaving rural and smaller metropolitan areas the principal source of supply for the future.

Pennsylvania has 1,394 children per thousand women the same census bureau figures show, while New York state for instance has 1,184 children per thousand women. On the same basis Baltimore has 1,202 children per thousand women. New York City 1,066 children per thousand women, and Chicago 1,067 children per thousand women.

Dr. Manny forsees a trend to lower social and economic standards in the fact that rural areas show the highest rating under his system of calculation. One of the lowest ratings in the country, he points out is that of Brookline, Massachusetts, an affluent suburb of Boston, while the most prolific county he has been able to discover in the United States is Leslie county, Kentucky, described by Dr. Manny as a "desperately poor county, with no railroads, no high school, and until this year no hard surfaced roads."

Present calculations, according to Dr. Manny, that the population of the United States will become stationary in 1942 with about 146,000,000 people and thereafter will slowly decline. The country could support 300,000,000 people on its resources, he said.

The census bureau figures given include all children under 15 years of age, and women of normal child bearing age, 20 to 45.

LIBRARIES TO GET COPY OF NEW BOOK, AMERICAN DIPLOMACY

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—Copies of Dr. Benjamin H. Williams' new book, "American Diplomacy," will be supplied to libraries throughout the world by a grant made recently by the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

The book deals with regional policies of the United States as applied to exports, loans, investments, control of arms traffic, and foreign affairs, with special reference made to the United States and the League of Nations, the pact of Paris, and limitation of armament conferences. Dr. Williams is a professor of political science at the University of Pittsburgh.

BUSINESS NO LONGER AROUND THE CORNER

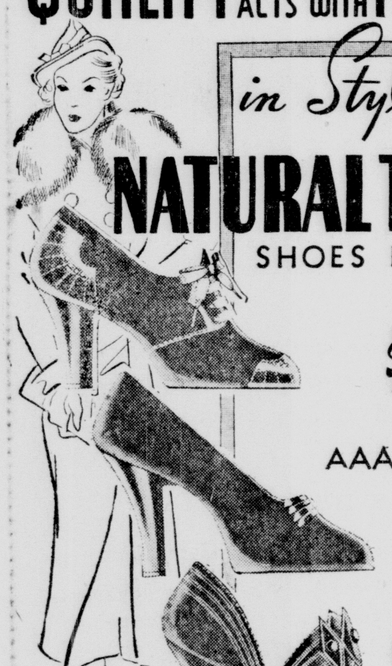

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—The old saying that "prosperity is just around the corner" is past history to this city. Prosperity has already rounded that famous turn, according to a report of the University of Pittsburgh's Bureau of Business Research, which has just completed an extensive survey.

Business has been so good there has been a 60 per cent decline in vacant houses. The report sets the vacancy ratio at three per cent, compared with seven per cent early in 1934. Only 575 houses were empty out of the 18,793 family units visited this summer, compared with 1,317 vacant in February, 1934.

Fewer Poisonous Snakes In Pennsylvania, Foresters Say

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 25.—State Foresters receiving their periodical anti-venom supplies this week, reported to Deputy-Secretary W. J. B. Winters of the Department of Forests and Waters that the population of poisonous snakes in Pennsylvania is decreasing each year.

The consensus among the Foresters attribute this decrease in the state's snake-life to the fact that more snakes are killed today because of the increasing number of people who seek recreation in the forests.

Some years ago forest rangers in the mountainous sections of Pike, Tioga, Potter, Sullivan, Clinton and Franklin counties, would kill as many as twenty rattlers in a day in dens located among the rocks. Today a kill of six or ten rattlers during the season is considered high.

Rattlers and copperheads are the only poisonous snakes native to Pennsylvania. The black snake is destructive only to young birds, eggs and frogs, and the water snake feed chiefly upon fish and frogs. The common garter snake and the puff adder are considered harmless.

The Department of Forests and Waters equips all of its foresters and rangers with anti-venom kits for protection against poisonous snake bites. Treatment in the case of bites is also afforded to visitors in State Forests.

The Department has received no reports this year of persons being bitten by rattlers or copperheads in the State Forests. The anti-venom kits are always available, however as a precautionary measure.

Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds will keep the registration office open on next Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings when a last chance to register will be given. Registration books close on October 3. Persons not registered by that date will be unable to vote at the November election. Registrations have still been coming in during the past week.

County Controller Frank W. Hill, who has returned from the state convention of county controllers held at Wilkes-Barre, is very much pleased with his experiences at the convention. The sessions were thrown open for general discussions, and many of the problems that have perplexed some of the controllers were untangled. It may be of interest to state that Lawrence and Clearfield counties are the only sixth class counties in the state having county controllers. There are controllers in all of the first, second, third, fourth and fifth class counties.

The school district of Wayne township some time ago condemned about eight acres of land belonging to James Clyde Cunningham and Harry Edward Cunningham for school purposes. Viewers awarded them $1500, but as there were liens against the property this could not be paid to the owners, but was paid into court, pending a settlement of the liens. In a petition presented to court today it was set forth that all of the liens with the exception of one, originally held by Charles A. Martin, trustee, but now by the Union Trust company, trustee for Samuel Smith, have been satisfied. The court made an order that after Attorneys Martin and Martin have been paid $82 for services, the balance of the money paid into court is to be applied to the lien of the Union Trust company, trustee.

The Pennsylvania Power company is erecting a transformer at Edenburg for the operation of huge flood lights to be used while the contractors for the bridge and viaduct are erecting the steel work across the Mahoning river. It is proposed to keep the work going day and night until the steel work is completed. The abutments on both sides of the river have been completed and the steel work over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Baltimore & Ohio tracks is now in place. A big platform has been erected in the center of the river from which a huge crane will be operated in hoisting the steel work into place. In view of the fact that it is coming the time of year when there are liable to be heavy rains, the contractor wants to get the steel work up before the river reaches a flood stage and cripples the crane. Hence the use of flood lights for night work. The highway has been concreted from the top of the hill near which the old concrete ended down to a point opposite Sherrard's store.

County commissioners have been waiting this week for an engineer to point out road lines on the New Castle-Youngstown road, from the end of the present three-way traffic to Parkstown corners, but he has not yet arrived. It is believed that he will be here the first of next week, and something definite may be done in connection with the widening of the road for three-way traffic. As the season is getting late it will take quick work to get anything accomplished this year. There is still considerable agitation for the improvement of the road leading from Sampson street to the intersection of the Youngstown road at the Harbor, as a means of relieving traffic past Parkstown corners. Those who favor this route claim that it would eliminate the steep Youngstown hill, and the hill east of the intersection of the Harbor road.

Damage Claim By 8-Year-Old Spurs Council

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—It may never happen again—no one is even sure that it ever happened before—but for once, at least, the Portland City council acted favorably on a damage claim without losing any time.

The "Claim" was in the form of a letter from eight-year-old Kathryn M. Olsen to Mayor Carson. It needed no interpretation and allowed for no argument. It said:

"Dear Mayor Carson:

"The city put out rat poison. They killed my seven baby chicks and 1 mamma. Now I've only got 2 left. At the same time the cat across the street died and the dog next door died. In place of them please send me a canary or a parrot in cage.

"Yours truly,

"Kathryn M. Olsen, 8 years old."

Immediately upon receipt of the letter, the city council went into action—cutting "red tape" right and left in its atempt to soothe the ruffled feelings of Miss Olsen.

The letter was rushed to City Attorney Grant for ruling. The city attorney ruled that it 'couldn't be beaten in any court "because it was" a clear statement of facts without any argument."

So Commissioner Bennett got a canary and Commissioner Riley got a cage, and rushed them right out to Kathryn. They also sent her a letter offering to exchange the canary if it proved not to be a singer, and invited her to visit the council in person.

150,000 Will Attend Contest To Pick Best Corn Husker

National Event This Year On November 10, In Licking County, Ohio

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O.—"The World Series of Agriculture," the national corn husking contest, will be held in Ohio this year, on Nov. 10, according to an announcement by Walter H. Lloyd, editor of the Ohio Farmer, sponsor of the contest. The annual husking contest, which attracts nationwide attention, will be held on the Alva L. Oyler farm in Licking county, 25 miles east of Columbus.

Eighteen entries, representing the winner and runner-up in corn husking contests in nine states of the corn belt, will compete before an expected crowd of 150,000 spectators for the championship of the country and the world.

It will be the first time the competition has been held as far east as Ohio. It originally was scheduled for Missouri, but a light corn crop there necessitated the change to Ohio where a crop of 102,312,000 busnels of corn was predicted by the August crop report.

Last year the contest was held in Indiana, where Elmer Carson of Iowa broke all existing records by husking 41.52 bushels during the hour and 20 minutes time.

Entries will represent the following states:

Ohio, Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Illinois and Indiana. The national contest is sponsored by farm papers which conduct county and state contests, and then send the state champion and runner-up to represent that state in the national meet.

The prize for the champion of the country's corn fields is $200 in cash and a silver trophy. The winner is selected by weighing the amount of corn husked in the allotted time, the deductions are made from the gross weight score for gleanings, corn the contestant failed to pick from the stalks assigned to him, or corn he failed to throw into his wagon.

The Oyler farm, scene of the 1936 contest, comprises 495 acres, 100 of which are in corn, which is expected to yield about 60 bushels to the acre this year.

Temple Israel Will Observe Yom Kippur

Service Tonight And Saturday Morning, Rabbi Norman Diamond In Charge

The plaintive music of Kol Nidre will usher in Yom Kippur or the Day of Atonement, at sun-down today. This holiday, the most solemn occasion in the Jewish year, is known as "The Great White Feast." Devout Jews abstain from all food and drink during these 24 hours and spend the day in the synagogue in prayer, meditation, and supplication for forgiveness.

From biblical days, when this holiday was the occasion for special sacrifices and prayers in the Temple Yom Kippur has carried with it an irresistible appeal for all Jews. It brings to a close the ten days of penitence which began on the Jewish New Year and its conclusion marks God's forgiveness for past sins and His bessing for the coming year.

This holy day is not founded upon an historical incident. Rather its appeal is direct and is made to the human heart and conscience. On this day each person must stand before his maker seeking to repent for his wrong doing and promising to walk the way of righteousness hereafter. Its emphasis is upon the necessity for personal communion with God so that human life may be made as nearly like the divine as possible. Its message is one of hope, for God's blessing is assured to those who show a genuine desire to return to the good life.

During the Atonement Day a special memorial service is held for those who have passed on, which adds much to the dignity and solemnity of the day.

Temple Israel will hold services at 7:30 p. m. and 9:30 a. m., Rabbi Norman H. Diamond officiating. He will preach at both services on themes appropriate for this solemn occasion.

TALK BY TELEVISION

(International News Service)

BERLIN—Using the television cable between Berlin and Leipzig two deaf-mute have been able to "telephone" each other.

The experiment was carried out by Herr Albrecht, National Director of the League of the Deaf in Germany, himself, a deaf-mute. It proved a complete success. The television conversation was carried out by use of the sign language and lip-reading.

LEADERSHIP NOT EASY

Thousands of study groups have sprung up over the country, most of them on child rearing and family relationship. Emphasis on the latter has been steadily growing in the last few years. There is no such thing as a mere child; always it is the child in his myriad relationships, especially within the family. This I had in mind in writing my latest book, "The Modern Family."

To get parents together for a study group is not hard—particularly easy for the P. T. A. or church or club. The groups can meet in the school or church or clubroom. Some on the preschool child meet in homes, even springing up in a neighborhood without being attached to any organization.

The two large problems are inexpensive good materials and good leadership. A great many study groups use this column; hence without extra cost. Many make scrap books of it, classifying the articles under such captions as preschool child, child from six to 12, adolescence, family relations, home school relations. There are many good books for parents. To those interested I should be glad to advise on sources of pamphlets at low cost. A postcard to the U. S. bureau of education, children's bureau and department of agriculture, all of Washington, D. C., will bring you information about the federal pamphlets available for parents. Like information can be got from your own state university.

Leader Not Easy To Find

A capable leader is not always easy to find. It is desirable that he or she should have scientific background, especially in child psychology. This is not enough. Some of the most learned may be poor teachers. Some with very limited education can make subject matter more interesting and bring out the best in each member of the group better than others with the Ph.D. degree. Regardless of school learning, the first essential is that the leader shall be highly esteemed by the group. If a parent, it is obviously desirable that he shall have children who are good citizens in their neighborhood, and that the parents are known by their neighbors to live together amicably.

While unmarried leaders may not have the insight into the finer family relationships, they are not handicapped by family failures. All else equal, they are far superior in the personal background to a divorcee. As family relations come to be emphasized more and more, the husband or wife who has not made fair adjustments in his or her own marital life just naturally won't aspire to be leader of a study group. He will suffer from too many emotional conflicts, and the members of the group will set up too great resistances.

Two towns in the United States are named Oshkosh. One is in Wisconsin and the other is in Nebraska.

P. S. E. A. Gathering October 23-24 To Hear Outstanding Men

Frank D. Slutz of Dayton, O., will speak on "Education and Main Street". Dr. Daniel A. Poling of New York will speak on "Over the World Youth Marches". Superintendent Henry H. Hill of the schools of Lexington, Ky., will speak on "What Curriculum Makes a Good Citizen". Dr. Lester K. OREGON MIGRATION

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore...—Hundreds of drought refugees are following the old Oregon Trail blazed about 130 years ago by Lewis and Clark. Many of the visitors found seasonal employment in hop and berry fields, and orchards, but a great many others were less successful. The migration brings about 4,000 persons into Oregon daily.

The good thing about the self-made man is his opinion of himself.

AROUND CITY HALL

The peace of a neighborhood must be maintained at all costs is one of the reasons perhaps why police cruiser cars are dispatched to sections where dogs howl. It costs taxpayers money every time a cruiser auto turns a wheel. Every day and night calls in which complaints are made about either howling dogs or chickens running loose are made to headquarters.

Judging from the remarks uttered in council chambers Thursday the proposed improvement of the Big Run is not the only improvement the city would like to make, providing they can raise the money with which to pay for the work. It was pointed out that the city sometime have to do some work at the Cherry Street bridge and along the Neshannock creek, north of North Street bridge. The sewer situation here also is a worry to the officials, they declared.

Auto accidents within the city limits dropped off during the past 48 hours....With traffic due to increase when Rural Avenue is open there is the anticipation that a traffic light will be used for North street and Neshannock avenue.

Correct this sentence: "Now that I have money and property," said the man, "I still believe that all things should be divided equally."

NEW CASTLE-YOUNGSTOWN PLAY HERE TONIGHT

SCHOOLBOYS SET FOR GRID BATTLE

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" After Third Straight Victory

Youngstown Team Light And Fast, Kickoff Is Set For 8 P. M.

Football fans by the hundreds will wend their way tonight to Taggart Stadium for the third football game of the year that brings the light and fast Youngstown East high team here to battle the New Castle "Red Hurricane." The kickoff at 8 p. m. should find the stands well filled.

New Castle high will be after its third victory of the year. Youngstown East hopes to make it two straight wins. New Castle has defeated Braddock 25 to 0, and Butler 13 to 6. Youngstown East trimmed Ursuline last week 10 to 0. East High will have almost a veteran team. They were co-holders of the city championship in Youngstown last season.

New Castle Crippled

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh sends his boys out tonight rather crippled up. Leroy Cox has missed two practice sessions this week on account of a bad leg. Louie Leonard twisted his knee in scrimmage. Paul Small was tramped on and has a bad leg. Dudey Perrett still has the cast on his wrist and Dom Covelli is just getting over an attack of the grip.

Socrates Roussos will be back at a tackle post tonight. If Covelli connot start it may be Vargo who has been converted into an end, to make room for Jim Howley at center. Stanley Kominic may get the call for the left half post in event that Cox is absent. The other half will fall to Charley Mort. In case Leonard cannot start it may be Vince Ryglinski, who subbed for Roussos last week.

Will Be Passing Game

Coach Dick Barrett will bring a team here tonight from the Ohio city that can handle a football like a basketball. Barrett sat in the stands here last week. He immediately hit upon a forward passing attack built along the lines of the famous Notre Dame passes. Barrett is a former Notre Dame star. He will have a shifty backfield. The Youngstown backs will average about 156. The line will average perhaps 155.

The New Castle boys have knocked down so many passes this week that they are dizzy. Bridenbaugh saw the hand-writing on the wall in the Butler battle and set about correcting this evil of forwards and laterals. If the Youngstown boys get away with any passes tonight they will have to be clever, or do it by the good deception.

One thing is certain that New Castle is not under-rating this East High team. Neither will the New Castle team be over-confident, such being the case against Butler after that first touchdown the other night. It will take a mighty lot of fight to "whup" this Ohio eleven.

It has been 10 years since East High played in New Castle. The last time they took a drubbing and they come back tonight to avenge that defeat. Coach Barrett believes that his boys can stop the powerhouse plays of the "Canes."

Egan To Referee

One of the features tonight will be the referee of the game, a gentleman rated as one of the best football officials in the United States, none other than Judge John Egan of Pittsburgh. Egan has handled many a big college game, but has never worked at New Castle before. He has expressed a desire to work a New Castle high game and so was secured for tonight. Judge Egan will have three other men assisting him, the fourth man being a field judge.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has been scanning the skies for the past two days looking for a sign of fair weather for today. In event of a good night the stands will no doubt be taxed again to capacity, just as for the first two games. The turnout this year is very gratfying to the school officials.

Expect Big Crowd

Several hundred Youngstown fans will no doubt follow the East High team here for the battle. The entire west side of the field has been reserved for Youngstown fans.

There are many choice reserved seats left for the game, and on sale at the Sporting Goods Store, where they may be obtained up until 5:30 o'clock tonight.

The fans are asked to notice the ramp number on their reserved tickets and use the right ramp in reaching their seats. This will help expedite the matter of seating the fans by the ushers, who have been overtaxed the past two games.

School Custodian Robert Stewart today announced that any youngster caught climbing the fence at Taggart field will be dealt with severely. A young man fell last week and broke his arm in trying to scale the fence.

Hamilton, N. Y.—Colgate's Red Raiders today were en route to Durham, N. C., where on Saturday they open their 1936 campaign against Duke.

Shenango's Second Game On Saturday

Coach Nocera Eleven To Face Tough Opponent In Glassport High

Shenango high faces a stiff grid opponent Saturday, when the Blue and Gold clad pigskin catchers line up against Glassport high, at Glassport.

During the past few days, Coach Frank Nocera has sent his proteges through a series of intensive drills, in preparation for the coming tussle, the second of the season. Last Saturday, the Shenangoans lifted the grid lid by losing a tough 6-0 decision to Evans City. A triumph over Glassport will elevate the standing of the Shenango team in local circles.

In all probabilities Coach Nocera will use the same lineup that opposed Evans City, namely: Blews, Jones, at ends; Kirkwood and Druschel at tackles; Houk and Currie at guards; Thomas at center; Arnold at quarterback; Irvine and Lysko at half; and Alfredo at full.

Bessemer And Firemen Ready

Rivals For County Baseball Title Meet At Bessemer Saturday

PLAY FOURTH GAME AT LEE AVENUE FIELD

Bessemer and the Sixth Ward Firemen will meet Saturday afternoon at Bessemer and judging from the interest displayed by the rivals and their followers in the race for the Lawrence county championship the game will draw a nice crowd. The teams play at Lee Avenue Sunday afternoon.

Bessemer captured the first game only to have the Firemen come back in the second. While the Cement-mixers firmly believe that they will not have much trouble winning the title the fans who have been watching both teams think otherwise—and the Firemen, likewise.

In the first game Bessemer romped away seven to one, but in the second game the Firemen demonstrated their punch when they came back in the last half of the ninth to score twice and win the game 10 to 9.

Ellwood City To Play Uniontown

Bessemer Will Journey To Monaca And Shenango To Glassport

Ellwood City, Bessemer and Shenango high school football teams, will play on distant gridirons, Saturday afternoon.

Ellwood City, winner over Union township, 18 to 0, last week, will oppose Uniontown high at Uniontown.

Bessemer, 28 to 0 conquerors of Hubbard, will line up against Monaca high at Monaca.

Shenango, defeated by Evans City, 6 to 0, will journey to Glassport where they will play Glassport high.

Union township will be idle Saturday.

Pirates To Play Giants Grid Team

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 25—The Pittsburgh Pirates engage in their third game of the season when they meet the New York Giants at Forbes Field Sunday afternoon at 2:30 D. S. T. A victory for the Bucs in this game will enhance their chances for the title very much as the Giants and Redskins are considered the teams that must be watched in the Eastern Division.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Following a spill which injured four drivers at Bellefontaine, O., on Thursday, George Sholty of Springfield, Ill., was barred from racing for three years. Judges said Sholty, owner and driver of Nancy Carroll in the 2:19 pace, cut in on the first turn, causing Prince Todd, Scott Worthy, Counterfeit and The Auditor to pile up. Henry Hawkins, driving Scott Worthy, went to the hospital for facial lacerations and a possible fracture of the skull. Miles Anderson, of Kent, O., driving Prince Todd and Ed. Sellers, piloting Counterfeit, were less seriously hurt. Scott Worthy took the first heat and Les Abbe the next two. In the 2:20 trot, Tony the Bear took the last two heats and Miss Ackerman the first. Peter Dear won the 2:16 trot in three straight heats.

Al Getz, the German who won from Leon Gradovich here last Monday night, succumbed to Everett Marshall, heavyweight champion at Canton last night and Chief Saunooke won from Bill Middlekauf of Florida. In the Monday night bouts here the wrestlers have been given orders to cut loose with everything they have as Tony Marchoni and Leo Wallick showed up the others and the promoters realize that with real wrestling pay day may come. Leo Wallick, one of the principals in last Monday night's bout has promised to do that with Steve Banaski, who held the 175-pound title for years.

Mike McKinney will get back in the fight game at Canton Monday night when he presents Fritzie Zivic against Jackie McFarland in a lightweight bout. Zivic will take the place which Louis Severe held. The latter is ill.

Johnny Risko, veteran heavy-weight, is angling for a scrap with Joe Louis, who is coming along the "come-back trail." The veteran doesn't think so much of Louis. He may after the first bell rings.

Larry McPhail, resigned vice pres-ident and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, denied at Cincinnati today he had offered to buy the St. Louis Browns.

E. H. Silliman of Jamestown, N. Y., scored his second win in the annual Riverside club golf tourney at Cambridge Springs by beating H. F. Miller, jr., of Nemacolin, 3 and 2, in the final 18 holes. His first victory was in 1929.

Gunnar Hoeckhert, Finland's 5,000 meter Olympic champion, at Stockholm, Thursday bettered Don Lask's world record for two miles when he ran the distance in 8:57.4.

Big Ten 'Champ' To Meet Swede

Tony Galinto, Former College Wrestler, Appears In Semi-Final

SEVERAL NEW FACES ON CARD

While it is true that Tony Marchoni has hied westward and may not again be seen in mat action here, Leo Wallick, the wrestler who helped him please fandom last Monday night will return with Steve Banaski, former light-heavyweight champion as his opponent Monday night at the Arena gardens.

Banaski is said to be one of the cleverest of the light-heavies now performing for the fans and should Leo feel the same way about things as he did last Monday night the mat fans will see plenty of wrestling and less grimaces—and wrestling will have taken an impetus.

According to Promoter Peter Askounes he proposes to give all of the matmen whom draw their cakes here, orders to get in, wrestle and please the crowd because he realized when Wallick and Marchoni put on their bout the fans liked it so well they applauded minutes after the draw decision was given.

Realizing also that new faces mean something the promoter wired the booking agents and they have calendared for the Arena gardens new faces, one of whom will wrestle Swede Nelson in the semi-final. He is Tony Galinto who won the championship of the Big Ten conference.

Bob Blake, a familiar figure here, will oppose another newcomer—Stanley Stacey. Nothing much is known locally of Stacey but in the opening bout Spike Ashby and Joe Szabo, two new comers ought to provide plenty of mat fireworks. The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m.

New Brunswick, N. J.—Recurrence of an old shoulder injury will keep Bob Metzler, senior half-back on the Rutgers varsity, from any gridiron action this season, it was revealed today.

Firemen Anxious For Next Game Of Bessemer Series

Game Saturday At Bessemer May Help To Decide Series, Play Here Sunday

Manager Joseph B. Zeigler and his Sixth Ward Firemen tried to hold a practice session last night at Lee Avenue, but it was too cold, and so Sir Joseph called the thing off. Another effort will be made at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon to get in a few practice throws.

Tomorrow afternoon at the Bessemer Field at 3 o'clock, the Firemen will tangle with the Lawrence County champions in the third game of the current series. Each team has won a game.

Nord Vs. Hill

Manager Jim Martin will probably select his ace Dick Nord to try and take the third game of the series. Manager Zeigler will no doubt call upon "Dutch" Hill to take over the mound duties. Hill pitched a fine game in relief last Sunday and deserves a starting berth.

The game at Lee Avenue Field Sunday will no doubt draw another banner crowd. Manager Martin will probably use Haresty or Hravtine on the knoll here Sunday, with the Firemen countering with either "Smokey" Art Alexander or "Shorty" Thornton, and it may be Dick Witherow.

No doubt both the games Saturday and Sunday will be hard fought. The teams are about evenly matched. It is all a question of how the pitchers hold up.

Terry Carson To Lead East High Band Boys Here

Youngstown East high school will send its fine 60 to 70 piece band to Taggart Stadium for the East-New Castle football game tonight, it was announced by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today.

The East high band will be under the leadership of a well-known New Castle musician, Terry Carson.

The New Castle high band will be under the supervision of Joe Replogle.

Between halves of the game the two bands will parade the greensward and lend a musical touch to the fall football setting.

Nonpariel Rifle Shoot Saturday

The members of the Nonpariel Rifle Club will stage another high-powered army rifle qualification shoot at the East Brook range on Saturday afternoon. The shoot will start at 1 o'clock. All members are urged to try and attend this shoot, by Karl Rohrer, secretary of the Nonpariel club.

Bass Will Be Put In Local Streams

More Than 5,000 Small Mouthed Bass Are Placed In Local Streams

Members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association will place more than 5,000 small mouthed bass in local streams in the next few days, it was announced by Karl Rohrer today.

Monday morning the trucks will go out with the cans of bass for Slippery Rock creek, Neshannock creek and the Shenango river. It was through the efforts of Charley French that the bass were secured for Lawrence county. Last year only 500 bass were received. An effort is being made to build up the bass fishing waters in these parts.

Monday morning members of the sportsmen's association are asked to volunteer their services for the placing of 80 cans of trout in Big Run and 80 cans of trout in Taylor Run. Anyone wishing to help in this placing of trout can make arrangements by calling Karl Rohrer at 8086 R-6.

Solomon-Smith To Play Sunday

Will Meet In 36-Hole Match For Championship At Castle Hills Course

Jimmy Smith and Izzy Solomon, finalists in the Castle Hills club championship tourney, will battle it out for 36 holes on Sunday. The first 18 holes will be played starting at 9:30 o'clock and the second 18 holes in the afternoon.

Those two grand old veterans of the links, M. K. Gilliland and William Nunn will play with Solomon and Smith in the morning, and act as referee of the match. In the afternoon Sam Lewis and Walt Vogan will play with the contenders and act as referees.

Solomon won from Willie Grommes and Nunn to reach the finals, while Smith, who shot a brilliant 68, beat Prof. C. W. McKee and Johnny Hodge to reach the finals.

Yankees Favored To Take Series

Carl Hubbell Only Giant Pitcher Believed Able To Upset Yank Sluggers

Yankees Pitching Staff Is Not So Hot Either, Hitting Will Win Series

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—In anticipation of the "nickel" or "subway series" which should become a reality before nightfall, Broadway bookies today were quoting 8 to 5 on the Yanks to take the series and 7 to 5 Carl Hubbell wins the opening game for the Giants.

The professionals do not like a team that backs into a pennant as the Giants are doing, but they believe Hubbell when right—and he almost always is right—can beat any team, including the Yanks, the first time he faces them. That is why they are banking on the Giants to take the opener, but the Yanks to cop the series.

Admitting that pitching is 80 per cent of the game, especially in a short series, they do not think Hubbell can carry the Giants through alone and they haven't much faith in the ability of Fitzsimmons, Schumacher, Smith, Gabler and Castleman to check the admitted power of the Yanks.

This view is at variance with the opinion of National league players who believe Fitz and Smith, at least, will cause the Yanks plenty of trouble.

Depends On Ruffing

The betting fraternity thinks even less of the Yankee moundsmen—Pearson, Hadley, Broaca, Ruffing, Gomez and Malone—but they insist the Yankees' power will offset weakness in their pitching except, of course, when Hubbell is working against them.

On paper, Ruffing is the one dependable Yankee flipper. Pearson's record of games won and lost is impressive but many of his victories were rung up because his mates were making runs for him in carload lots.

Hadley Uncertain

Hadley might surprise the Giants but he is just as likely to get his bumps. Broaca is an in and outer and Gomez is a problem child.

Some ball players say Gomez has lost his high hard one but in recent outings he appeared about as fast as ever. McCarthy might gamble on him against Hubbell, hoping that Gomez has one of his unbeatable days.

Of course, if the Yanks beat Hubbell in the opener, there may not be much to the series. But if Hubbell beats them, the Yankee morale will be unimpaired for they feel they can trim anybody else Bill Terry shoots at them and they are not yet convinced they can't take even Hub.

There seems to be a widespread belief here that the Yanks' murderers' row will spray the Polo grounds close grandstand seats with homers.

Hubbell Is Great

Well, they might do that against ordinary pitching but they don't figure to do it against the Giants' low ball pitchers. Hubbell has his screwball; so has Smith; Schumacher has his sinker, Gabler and Castleman their downers and Fitz his knuckler, the like of which the Yanks have never seen in their own league.

It may be easy enough for a batter to belt a ball off his ear into those close stands but it's a different matter to drive one in there off his kneecaps.

Mental Hazard

The Yankee throwers are more likely to carry a mental hazard about those nearby stands than are the Giants who are used to them.

The writer realizes anything may happen in a short series. Hubbell for instance, might have an off day and get his ears pinned back. Pearson might be wild as a hawk or have control and work a shutout. But off the records, the Giants figure to have a decided edge in the pitching department. It remains to be seen if that edge is sufficient to offset the superior Yankee attack.

College Grid Teams Ready For Openers

Minnesota Is Favored To Upset Washington, Colgate And Duke Is Tossup

PITT ELEVEN MEETS OHIO WES.

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Most of the nation's leading football teams will move into opening games tomorrow against customary sparring partners who will be lucky to escape with their lives, but in a few instances there may be some competition worthy of a place on the mid-season slate.

The best way to start the thing is by picking Minnesota to beat Washington at Seattle, if for no other reason than that Minnesota is Minnesota—unbeaten in 24 straight games dating back to 1933.

Duke Vs. Colgate

From that point you progress to the coin-flipping stage to try to name the winner between Colgate and Duke at Durham, N. C., and Rice and Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, La.

Colgate and Louisiana State probably will be the favorites, but for the sake of variety we'll pick Duke and L. S. U.

Duke's blue devils have one win, by 13 to 0, over Davidson last week under their belts, play on home grounds and have Wallace Wade for their mentor. That should offset Quo Vadis, the quarterback who does everything well in a 182-pound backfield, all the razzle-dazzle laterals for which the red raiders are famous and Andy Kerr, with his record of losing only one game by more than a touchdown in seven years.

Louisiana State Favored

As for Rice-Louisiana State, Rice won last year, whereupon the Louisiana eleven settled down to business and simply marched through all nine subsequent games on its schedule, winding up with a 41 to 0 victory over Tulane. Rice was beaten afterward by Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Baylor and figures to unhesitatingly give the Tigers the revenge they crave.

Stanford plays Santa Clara and should win by a touchdown, while Southern California looks like a 20 to 0 bet over Oregon State and St. Mary's should beat Gonzaga easily on Sunday.

Navy Should Win

Back in the east, Navy should take care of William and Mary by a couple of touchdowns, with such other sterling performances on the schedule as Brown against Connecticut State, Cornell against Alfred, Dartmouth against Norwich, and Holy Cross against Bates; Pittsburgh should bury Ohio Wesleyan.

The Big Three—Yale, Princeton and Harvard—defers action for a week. Likewise Notre Dame in the midwest, while Chicago warms up against Lawrence, Ohio meets Purdue, and Wisconsin meets South Dakota State for no very good reason. Write your own ticket.

Georgia will launch its schedule in the south against Mercer, and, as usual, win as she pleases; although Mississippi beat Union University, 43 to 0, last week, Tulane figures to beat Mississippi tomorrow.

College Football Doings In Brief

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—While its grid warriors toiled on the practice field, Duquesne's business office today reported a heavy advance sale of tickets for the Dukes' curtain-raiser against Waynesburg Friday night. The Night Riders reign odds-on favorites to skin the Yellow Jackets.

Pittsburgh — Pitt's Panthers started putting the brakes on heavy workouts today as they entered the tapering off process preparatory to meeting Ohio Wesleyan here Saturday. Paul Shaw, regular left end, may miss the opener via the charley horse route, but the squad has a capable replacement in Meadville's Bill Daddio, a "comer".

Pittsburgh—Two long practice sessions on the books today for Carnegie Tech's footballers earned the plaid the title of hardest working grid gang in the city. Pitt and the Duke stook it comparatively easy with games carded for this weekend, but Tech, with Notre Dame another week away, was still hard at it.

Latrobe, Pa.—A smooth-working St. Vincent unit will go into action against Morris Harvey Friday night. The Bearcats went through a long scrimmage today and were pronounced in fine shape by Coach Edwards.

New York—The Columbia and Manhattan football squads today continued training preparations in separate workouts following their second meeting of the season in a two hour scrimmage session yesterday. With several first string men missing in both line-ups, each team put across two touchdowns. The Jaspers "won", 14 to 13.

New York—With the rest of the N. Y. U. back from camp at Lake Sebago today, Coach Mal Stevens plunged into the task of whipping the Violets into shape for the opening game against Ohio State at Columbus October 3.

West Point, N. Y.—With games against Columbia and Harvard scheduled for the second and third weeks of the campaign, offensive tactics were stressed in the Army workout under Coach Gar Davidson today. The Cadets open against Washington and Lee next week.

Notre Dame, Ind.—Personal battles for positions on the Notre Dame varsity are enlivening the Irish practice sessions. Chuck O'Reilly, Joe Ruetz and Bill Bruno are pressing Andy Pupils for the quarterback job; Steve Miller and Larry Danbom are running nip-and-tuck for the starting job at fullback; and in the line Art Cronin, Jr., and Frank Kopezak are battling for a chance to start at right tackle against Carnegie Tech October 3.

Morgantown, W. Va.—A stiff offensive workout kept West Virginia U's grid varsity busy today. The Mountaineers will be hampered by injuries against Cincinnati Saturday.

Giants Take 1936 Pennant

Hal Schumacher Goes Ten Innings And Beats Boston 2 To 1 For Flag Cincher

PIRATES HANDS CHICAGO JOLTING

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Giants finally grabbed the pennant from the clutches of the mathematicians, the Cardinals assured themselves of at least a tie for second place and today the baseball season was virtually at an end.

The Giants supplanted the Cubs as National league champions by beating the Bees 2 to 1 in 10 innings in the opener of a double header yesterday, with Hal Schumacher coming into form after a disappointing season to not only hurl a seven-hit performance but also to drive in the winning run. The Giants dropped the nightcap, 4 to 0, with Weir outpitching Gabler.

Pirates Win.

The Cardinals beat the Reds in the opener of a twin bill by 5 to 4 in 12 innings, then took the nightcap 2 to 0 in six frames on Dizzy Dean's four-hit twirling.

That sewed up at least a tie for second money for the Cards, and another win will clinch it.

The Pirates beat the Cubs, 4 to 0, and the Phils and Dodgers split, the former winning 4 to 2 in 13 innings and losing 4 to 2 in seven.

In the only American league game the Athletics beat the Yanks 4 to 3.

PITTSBURGH TEAM WANTS GRID GAME

North Side Panthers, Northside Pittsburgh, composed of former high school players, would like to book games with all first class elevens in New Castle or Lawrence county.

Last year, the Panthers lost but two games, winning nine times. Any team desiring a game is asked to write Anthony Cammarata, 913 Federal street, Northside Pittsburgh, relative to the date and other particulars.

Grovers Plan To Use Power Plays

Bill Amos Finally Has Husky Men On Grove City College Team

GROVE CITY, Sept. 25.—Power plays, for the first time in Bill Amos' four years as head coach may be a dependable feature of the Grove City attack this season. Scrimmages this week indicated that weight in the line and backfield will supply an effective offensive weapon to supplement the open running and passing attack that has been fairly successful.

New possibilities revealed by the discovery of needed punch in the attack are counted upon by Coach Amos to compensate for the lack of established stars on his current squad. Last year, with a light line and midget backs, the Grovers stressed deception and passes. To this will be added power plays this year, with some hope of consistent gains.

Myers Is Standout

The return of Ray Myers, a stand-out as a freshman, who was not in school last year, will give Amos a pair of tackles well over 190 pounds, since Nick Maddalena is considered a fexture at one tackle. Joe De Prima, a 230-pound tackle, will see plenty of service. The lightest of three leading center candidates tops 190 pounds, and the guards are only slightly smaller. The veteran ends, Laderer, Bibri and Brunton, range from 170 to 185 pounds.

Veteran backs—Mori, Bingham, Shoch, Morris and Mathis—reported with added poundage this year, and several new and huskier candidates are making strong bids for positions. Nicklivich, Stanford and Patterson are youngsters who will see plenty of service this fall as ball-carriers.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)

The Hero—Hal Schumacher, who pitched and batted Giants to the National League pennant in 10-inning win over Bees, 2 to 1.

The Goat—Urbanski, who threw ball away on Jackson's grounder to put winning run on second base as Giants won pennant.

Yanks Cut Up Series 'Pie'

Yankees Vote Full Shares Of Series Money To 27 Persons

EVEN BAT-BOY IS REMEMBERED

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—The Yankees cut up the world series pie with thirty six individuals, ranging from Manager Joe McCarthy to the mascot getting generous and juicy portions.

Twenty seven full shares were allotted. Ted Kleinhans, left handed pitcher, who was released to Newark on August 11 after being with the club all season, was handed a full share. So was Jake Powell, obtained from the Senators on June 15 in the trade for Ben Chapman.

With the radio rights sold to the Ford Company for $100,000, and wide interest in the nickle series, the winners share in the championship games may go to $7,500.

Everybody Shares

Kemp Wicker, pitcher, and Bob Seeds, outfielder, who did not join the club until late August, were each given half shares. Mark Roth, road secretary, and Erle V. Painter, trainer, were voted three quarter shares each. Fred Logan, the club house custodian, was given $1,000. Walter Owen, ground keeper, Tim Sullivan, the mascot, Mike Sheehy, the club house boy, and Rex Weyant assistant road secretary, each voted $500.

Those receiving full shares follow:

Manager Joe McCarthy, Johnny Broaca, Walter Brown, Frank Crosetti, Bill Dickey, Joe Dimaggio, Lou Gehrig, Joe Glenn, Vernon Gomez, Bump Hadley, Don Heffner, Roy Johnson, Art Jorgens, Tony Lazzeri, Pat Malone, Johnny Murphy, Monte Pearson, Red Rolfe, Charley Ruffing, Jack Saltzgaver, George Selkirk, Ted Kleinhans, Myril Hoag, Jake Powell, and Coaches Art Fletcher, Earle Combs and Johnny Schulte.

(International News Service)

Gehrig, Yankees; Herman, Reds
Leaders—Gehrig, Yankees 49; Trosky, Indians 42; Foxx, Red Sox 39; Ott, Giants 33; DiMaggio, Yankees 29.

Stock Market Is Unsettled

French Monetary Situation Brings Market Into Slight Decline

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Growing fears over the critical French monetary situation tumbled the stock market one to four points today, the sudden wave of liquidation sending the high-speed ticker three minutes behind.

All sections of the list gave way under the selling pressure, which was touched off in steels and motors.

Largest losses were sustained by Allied Chemical, off 4; International Nickel, 2¼; U. S. Steel, 1¾; Bethlehem, 2; Atchison, 3; Union Pacific, 2¼; Loews, 1⅝; American Car & Foundry, 2; Youngstown Sheet & Tube, 2¾; U. S. Smelting, 2¼; DuPont, 1¾; Chrysler, 2¼; and General Motors, 1½.

As the session crossed the noon hour, liquidation dried up and a modest recovery from the extreme lows was effected.

Before the sudden advent of selling a few issues had broken through into new high ground for the year. The list included Gimbel, Mack Trucks and Atlantic Coast Line. Their gains were later converted into small declines.

Bonds drifted irregularly lower. Grains were off more than a cent a bushel, but cotton displayed a steady tone.

ELLWOOD CITY HIGH INVADES UNIONTOWN

Great Battle Looms When Wolverines Clash With Powerful AA Opponent

LOCALS WILL SHOOT THE WORKS SATURDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—Eyes of the followers of Ellwood City high will be anxiously focused on the outcome of Coach Bill Mitchell's Wolverines invasion of Uniontown, Pa., at 2:30 p. m. (E. S. T.) Saturday in their first class AA battle of the season.

The game takes on an unusual importance as fans are inclined to think that it will reflect as a barometer on Ellwood's possibilities for the remainder of the season. A victory or a good showing against Uniontown's powerful eleven will undoubtedly stamp them as a team to be reckoned with for the 1936 grid campaign. Against Union township high in the season opener last week Coach Bill Mitchell's first eleven at Ellwood high showed the possibilities of another great eleven. Although the varsity was in only part of the game their showing was judged as mediocre against the opposition. But no doubt was left as to the potential power of the team. With a big, powerful, fast-charging line, and a backfield of equal ability plus speed and deception, left an indelible impression on the fans. It was one of the finest, all-around balanced teams to ever take the field for Ellwood high.

Team Greatly Improved.

The faith of the fans in the Ellwood Wolverines became justified this week as they watched the practice sessions at Lincoln field. For two days Coach Mitchell and Assistant Coach Dutch Croft pointed out and explained the errors made in the last game and took steps to rectify them. The glaring errors were open field blocking and timing of their offense. Time was spent on this plus more blocking, charging, passing and punting. The result was amazing. Tuesday afternoon Coach Mitchell scrimmaged the first eleven against the second, which has always been a nip and tuck affair. The fans looked in awe and admiration as the varsity with an array of new plays that were baffling scored four touchdowns in 15 minutes. The team gave an exhibition of smooth working and polished machine. There was little to be desired n the open field blocking as the interference mowed down the secondary to give the ball carrier an easy time of it.

Gib At Guard.

All this week a change has been observed in the first string line with 138-pound Nick Gib being advanced from the second team to replace 175-pound Ben Keller at left guard. With a Jewish holiday occurring today and Saturday Keller would be unable to play. Although he is of diminutive size, Gib was a stellar performer last year and in the practice sessions. And from his work this week it seems that Keller will have a fight on his hands to regain his position. The remainder of the team will in all probability be the same as last week. The entire first three teams have pulled through in fine shape from last week's game and the workouts this week. They will be at Uniontown in full strength Saturday.

Uniontown Is Strong.

Uniontown will truly test the mettle of the Mitchell coached eleven on Saturday. With five members of last year's team and several lettermen back Coach Everhart has built his characteristic powerful team. In opening their season two weeks ago, Scott high won a 6-0 decision by an unfortunate break of the game to Uniontown. Otherwise the Everhart men played the W. P. I. A. L champions all over the field. Last Saturday they eked out a tough 7-6 decision over Georges township, a class B school, from where they come tough.

For a nucleus Coach Everhart has Machesky and Miller at the ends, Sabo guard, Gondolfi center, and Darby halfback. He has rounded out the team with S. Mondelak and Kacur at tackles, Rine guard, Trump quarterback, Addis halfback and Sloan fullback. This combination will match Ellwood in weight and power. It will miss the stellar backfield play of last year's Captain Clark, who was a team in himself. In its two games Uniontown has displayed a weakness in pass defense. They will have to remedy this situation if they are to stop the Wolverines, who exhibited an effective aerial game last week. In last year's game here the locals won 21-6 in one of the most thrilling and amazing football games seen here.

Crowd To Follow Team.

From all indications Ellwood City will send a huge crowd to cheer its team on to victory. Principal R. C. Shaffer announced this morning that the student tickets were going like hotcakes. Besides a motor caravan of fans, special rates have been offered to the fans by the B. & O. railroad for a party of 25 or more. Two good routes have been offered the motorists. One is route 18 thru Monaca to Washington and then on route 40 to Uniontown. A better highway and shorter distance route is taking route 19 to Pittsburgh, through the Liberty tubes and then hitting route 51 near Dormont and straight through to Uniontown.

Through the kindness of motorists, arrangements are almost complete to bring along Ellwood high's 60-piece band. It has been increased this week by the arrival of four drums and a new bass drum. Anyone taking two or more members of the band will be given free admission to the game, school officials announced.

Uniontown Prepares Reception.

Uniontown is preparing a big reception for the Ellwood team and fans, according to Principal R. D. Mosier in a letter to Principal Shaffer here. Mr. Mosier stated that the Uniontown team and fans attending the game at Ellwood City last year cannot get over the splendid acts of sportsmanship, courtesy, friendship, and in general the royal reception extended the visitors here. Uniontown plans to equal this gesture and has completed arrangements for a big reception to Ellwood City. They have asked for Ellwood's school song and colors. Local officials ask that Ellwood people continue to make the impression they made last year.

The probable lineups for tomorrow's game:

Supt. V. R. DeLong Addresses Rotary

Gives Interesting Talk On Modern Methods Of Teaching At Session

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 25.—An interesting meeting was held by the Ellwood City Rotary club Thursday night in the First Presbyterian church with a fine turnout present.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Frank E. Moore. Clustered about the bouquet of flowers on each table were apples, freshly picked from trees on the Marion Farms and presented by W. H. Goehring. They were choice apples indeed.

The program was in charge of H. W. Smith, who introduced as the speaker of the evening Vaughn R. DeLong, superintendent of the Ellwood City schools. Mr. DeLong gave an address upon the modern methods of teaching children the art of reading and answered questions, which had been suggested beforehand, on regimentation and the method of education at the University of Chicago, and described briefly the use and the value of the new electrical speaking service which has recently been installed in our schools.

Illustrating the methods in teaching reading to children Mr. DeLong had a number of present day readers. No Rotarian said so, out loud, but the books were so attractive, it was evident by the soulful looks that a number of the boys grown older wanted to go to school again. Mr. Moore, in thanking Mr. DeLong for the splendid address, said Ellwood was fortunate in having Mr. DeLong as our superintendent of schools.
